No. 9.—The Governor General in Council has learnt with great regret of the death of the Most Reverend George Alfred Lefroy, D.D., Bishop of Calcutta and Metropolitan in India and Ceylon. The late Bishop had worked in India for forty years and had held the See of Lahore for over thirteen years and that of Calcutta for nearly six. During the latter part of this period he had continued unfailingly to perform the functions of his office despite increasing ill health which finally forced him to resign. His death on the very day of his resignation is a heavy loss to the communities over which his duties had extended and will be regarded as a personal calamity by all those who had known his work and influence in India.

KING'S POLICE MEDAL.

NOTIFICATION.

(POLICE.)

Delhi, the 1st January 1919.

No. 1-C.—His Majesty the KING, EMPEROR OF INDIA, has been pleased to confer the King's Police Medal on the following officers and men of the Indian Police establishments:—

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
MADRAS.
1 Frank Seaver Scotney George, Superintendent of Police.	This officer rendered signal service in October 1916, when Kurnool town was visited by floods of a very disastrous nature. Portions of the town were from 5 to 12 feet under water and all drains were blocked with debris and filth. It was largely due to the unremitting efforts made by Mr. George at great personal risk that only one life was lost. The work effected under the personal direction of this officer after the floods had subsided, viz., that of clearing the streets and lanes of flood water and filth, was invaluable in that it prevented the serious threatened danger of a subsequent epidemic.
2 Khan Bahadur Muhammad Amin-ud-Din Sahib, Deputy Superintendent of Police (retired).	Mr. Amin-ud Din has recently retired after a total service of nearly 3[illegible] years of which 29 years 9 months were spent in the Police. He has borne a reputation for integrity and trustworthiness. He was responsible for the detection of many important and difficult cases.
3 Paramanandam Pillai Dūraswami Pillai, B.A., Inspector of Police.	This Inspector has throughout his service had an excellent reputation for honesty and efficiency. Of the cases which he has been called upon to deal with the most important was one in which a very wealthy Muhammadan of Kulasekharapatnam, Tinnevelly district, was murdered in 1917. The case was most complicated and enquiries had to be made in various parts of the Tinnevelly district and in Ceylon. The principal accused was a very wealthy man with enormous influence both in Tinnevelly and Colombo and it was almost entirely due to this officer's integrity and great ability that the case was properly put up.
4 Abdul Quadir Sahib, Police constable.	On the 21st May 1917 the sub-inspector of police, Annur station, in the Coimbatore district, accompanied by this constable went to conduct searches in two villages inhabited by Valayars and Vellalas. The former are a criminal tribe and the latter act as their protectors and receivers of stolen property and are notorious for defying authority. They objected to the searches being conducted and, when the sub-inspector insisted, set upon him and his party and handled them very severely. The police party had to retreat before superior numbers and being pursued scattered in different directions. Constable Abdul Quadir stayed by the sub-inspector against whom the attack was chiefly directed and did his best to defend him. On reaching a neighbouring village, the constable got the sub-inspector whose leg had been fractured into the shelter of a house. Though deserted by the few friendly villagers who had been with them and advised by the sub-inspector to look after himself the constable remained and closed the house against the assailants. The mob however began to break open the door and threatened to set fire to the house; so he was forced to open it. The mob again attacked the sub-inspector but the constable defended him receiving severe injuries in doing so.

BOMBAY.

5 Vithoo Jagojee Bhonslay, third class Jamadar, Bombay City.	This officer joined the Bombay City Police as a fourth class constable in 1898. He earned his first good conduct stripe within 2 years, his second good conduct stripe after 8 years, and a silver stripe after 16 years' service, having by then risen to the grade of third class head constable and having up to that time been awarded 25 good service tickets and several rewards. Every officer under whom he has worked has spoken in the highest terms of his zeal, capacity, and detective ability. From the date of his promotion to the grade of a head constable he has had scope for independent work, and his record up to date shows 47 commendatory entries. The promptness with which he acted in what is known as the Hajam Gully murder case, led to the unravelling of one of the most horrible crimes perpetrated in Bombay, ending in the trial and conviction of a Pathan brothel keeper, his wife and their so-called daughter. The Pathan and his wife were sentenced to death, and a sentence of transportation for life was passed on the daughter. At the end of this sensational trial, the presiding judge complimented this officer on his excellent work. Departmentally his work was recognized by special promotion and he received soon after further promotion for work done in rounding up a gang of notorious ruffians who were a terror in the locality. One of them perpetrated a cowardly and vicious assault on Vithoo Jagojee which has resulted in permanent disfiguration. He still continues to work with exceptional zeal and detective ability and he is recognised as one of the ablest detectives of the force.
6 Frederick George Collett, Assistant Superintendent of Police.	This officer joined the police department on 7th June 1885 as an European constable and after a total service of over 32 years in the Department retired on the 6th March 1918 as first grade Assistant Superintendent of Police. But for a block in promotion he would ordinarily have been a District Superintendent of Police. In addition to his work in the department, which was characterized by zeal and a high sense of duty, he did excellent work in the Savantwadi State in connection with recruiting for the army.

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
	BOMBAY—contd.
7 Yadav Sadoba, Police constable.	On 12th June 1916 this constable went unarmed into the camp of a gang of dacoits in the guise of a receiver of stolen property. By so doing he discovered the hiding place of a large amount of property which the gang had stolen. He further kept the attention of the gang occupied until it was surrounded by other policemen. Had the constable's identity been discovered there is little doubt that he would have been murdered at once.
8 Rajawali Nadirkhan, Acting head constable of police, Sind. 9 Bhagwan Luxman, head constable of police, Sind.	On the 26th February 1918, a wooden lighter loaded with 1,092 cases of petroleum was lying along side the Bulk Oil pier at Keamari. Two railway trucks loaded with about 860 cases of petroleum were standing on the pier close by. At about 8-30 P.M. an explosion occurred on the lighter which immediately burst into flames. Head constable Bhagwan Luxman who received information of the fire rushed on to the pier in order to free the burning lighter from its moorings. He found that the stern rope had been burnt through whereupon he proceeded to untie the forward rope. In the meantime head constable Rajawali Nadirkhan who was on patrol duty in a tony sculled up rapidly to the burning lighter where he found the tug "Bhisti" standing by to try and tow the burning lighter away from the pier. A rope was thrown to the tony and head constable Rajawali then paddled in the tony ahead of the lighter and passed the rope to head constable Baghwan. The latter fastened the rope to the forward rope of the lighter, which was then towed from the Oil pier into the stream where it eventually burnt itself out. These two head constables showed great pluck and initiative at considerable personal risk in view of the imminent danger of further explosions. Their prompt and plucky action prevented what might have been a very serious danger to the Bulk Oil pier and possible damage to the Port.
10 Umar Buran, Inspector of Police.	This officer joined the police department on the 1st March 1894 as a constable and has worked his way up through all the grades of head constable and sub-inspector to his present rank of fourth grade inspector. He was reported last year by the Superintendent of Police for his excellent work in hunting down the Berad dacoits in the Belgaum District.
11 Khan Saheb Shaikh Ahmed Shaikh Daud, Headquarters Chief Constable, Mahi Kantha Agency.	He has served about 19 years in the police department and 19 years in the Army. He received the title of Khan Saheb in 1913. His police record is an excellent one. He is drawing near the end of a long and meritorious career.
12 James William Fellowes, District Superintendent of Police.	This officer joined the police department on 5th August 1891, and has therefore about 27 years' service. He commenced as a probationer and has worked himself up through the various grades to that of first grade District Superintendent of Police and was lately appointed to officiate as Deputy Inspector General of Police, Sind. His force in whichever district he has held charge, has been always noted as one of the best turned out and equipped forces in this Presidency. He has been a quiet unostentatious worker, but his work has always been characterized by a high sense of zeal and rectitude, and his kindly solicitude for his subordinates is worthy of the highest praise.

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which in particular the decoration has been conferred.
	BOMBAY—concld.
13 Edwin Alfred John Barnes, Senior Inspector, the Aden Police.	Mr. Barnes entered the Aden police in December 1893. His record has been unblemished. As a police inspector he has always done his duties to the entire satisfaction of everyone. He has lived in Aden all his life and has obtained an unique personal knowledge of not only the local population but a large majority of the people who come to Aden either for business or passing through. He has acquired a full knowledge of Arabic and Somali. Since the outbreak of war he has been called upon to perform various duties requiring energy, intelligence, tact and trustworthiness and he has in every case shown that he possessed these qualities. In the early days of the war inspector Barnes did valuable work in organizing the coolie corps. Subsequently he has been the means of settling many labour difficulties and was also employed in the raising of the first two hundred men for the local labour corps. He was on account of his qualifications deputed specially for duty with the troops which attacked and took Sheikh Said in November 1914, and was present with the troops throughout these operations. He was subsequently sent to Khor Omeria after the Arabs had fired on the boats of H. M. S. "Dufferin." Though no result accrued at the time it was due to his influence that the Sheikh subsequently came into Aden and the situation was cleared. He has exhibited conspicuous devotion to duty and his services in connection with the war have been of very special value.
	BENGAL.
14 Bijoy Narayan Basu, Inspector of Police.	A very useful and reliable officer who has done most meritorious detective work in important and dangerous cases.
15 Phanindra Kumar Basu, Inspector of Police.	He has done exceptionally valuable detective work and shown absolute fearlessness and great devotion to duty.
16 Ban Behari Mukherji, Inspector of Police.	An officer of great tact, ability and courage, whose work has led in many instances to the arrest of some most desperate characters.
17 Rasik Lal Basu, Officiating Sub-Inspector of Police.	This officer, though very junior, has done exceptionally valuable detective work and has shown great devotion to duty. He has been instrumental in effecting the arrest of several dangerous characters.
18 Amrita Lal Bhattacharji, Inspector of Police.	This officer has fearlessly carried out duties which have exposed him to considerable personal risk and has done most useful work besides effecting the arrest of a notorious character.
19 Shamsuddahar, Sub-Inspector of Police.	A fearless officer possessed of great tact and presence of mind, who has an excellent record. His services have also been of the greatest use since the outbreak of the war in enquiries of great importance.
20 Nityananda Nandi, Sub-Inspector of Police.	Towards the end of 1917 an outbreak of hat looting occurred in his jurisdiction and this officer accompanied only by a few subordinates faced a mob of several thousand persons and by his tact and courage averted the looting of the hat. He displayed conspicuous bravery and incurred great personal risk in saving property and preventing crime. His efforts in collecting evidence against the leaders of the mob had the effect of putting a stop to further looting in his jurisdiction.

21 Hazari Lall Mukherji, Inspector of Police.	This officer rendered special services in dealing with the outbreak of hat looting in Jessore towards the end of 1917 and it was chiefly owing to his efforts that the disturbance did not spread throughout the district and that the cases were brought to a successful conclusion. He was in direct charge of three of these cases and the Special Tribunal have recorded their high appreciation of his services.
22 Brian Wardle, Officiating Additional Superintendent of Police.	This officer displayed conspicuous gallantry and risked his life in dealing with some armed desperadoes.

UNITED PROVINCES.

25 Musleh-ud-din, head constable of police.	On the 21st December 1917, a very large and well-armed gang of dacoits made an attack on a house in the town of Sirsaganj. The police station to which this head constable was attached is situated in this town. On receiving the alarm the head constable proceeded to the spot with a musket and in spite of being fired at, advanced to within about 15 yards and opened fire on the gang. He wounded one of the dacoits and, on attempting to secure this man, was himself hit. The head constable succeeded in retiring with his musket for a short distance before falling unconscious. In his devotion to duty he exhibited courage of the highest order by attacking a gang well armed and immeasurably superior in numbers.
26 Muhammad Shafiq, police constable.	On the 26th February 1918, a report was made at the Atraulia police station that a mad camel had severely injured two men, one of them mortally. Shortly afterwards the camel accompanied by another camel made its appearance close to the police station. Several people working in the field close by were chased but succeeded in escaping to their huts. The Sub-Inspector with a posse of police and some unarmed villagers proceeded to the spot. When within a hundred yards of the animals the Sub-Inspector advanced to within forty yards. The mad camel on seeing the Sub-Inspector charged. The Sub-Inspector's gun missed fire in both the barrels with the result that he was caught by the camel severely wounded and rendered unconscious. Constable Muhammad Shafiq seeing the plight of the Sub-Inspector and taking the initiative, where other superior officers failed, seized an old single-barrelled gun from a head constable and, advancing to a close range, fired at the hind quarters of the mad camel whereupon the animal made off. The next day the mad camel again made an appearance and this constable was responsible for its death. He laid wait on a piece of rising ground and had the camel driven out to him by a crowd of villagers armed with lathis. When within about 60 yards the constable who was using the Sub-Inspector's gun that had failed the day before, fired and brought the camel down. The action of this constable throughout was exceedingly plucky. On the first day he was using a very old gun and if it had failed him, he would probably have received the same treatment as he had seen meted out to the sub-inspector; moreover on the same day he took the initiative where his superior officers failed and thereby saved the life of the sub-inspector.

7 Robert John Sherwood Dodd, Superintendent of Police.	Mr. Dodd joined the service in 1899. After doing good work as Superintendent at Budaun from 1907—1911 he was posted in 1912 to Cawnpore and is still Superintendent of that district. Mr. Dodd's administration of the Cawnpore police had been uniformly excellent. He has rendered excellent services in Cawnpore during the last 5 years in the maintenance of law and order in this very important city, and in spite of difficulties has continued to command the respect and confidence of all classes. His management of the clashing festivals in 1917 was especially successful. In 1917 Mr. Dodd, in collaboration with the Inspector General, thoroughly revised the rules for the surveillance of bad characters.
8 Henry Robert Sharpe, Deputy Inspector General of Police.	Mr. Sharpe joined the service in 1892. Throughout his service he has held charge of many of the most important districts including Bareilly, Fyzabad, Lucknow and Moradabad. He has shown very marked ability as Superintendent and with his rare knowledge of men and intimate insight into all matters connected with police work in India, has been of valuable assistance to the department and to Government. In November 1916 he was promoted to the rank of Deputy Inspector General and, up to the time of his taking, in June 1918, long leave preparatory to retirement, proved himself to be an officer of exceptional ability and merit.
William Edmund Botting, Executive Officer, Lucknow Municipality.	Mr. Botting is Executive Officer of the Lucknow Municipality and as such is practically head of the Lucknow Fire Brigade which has been trained by him. He has taken a foremost part in the suppression of every outbreak of fire in Lucknow in which the Brigade has been engaged. It was due to his efforts this year that the outbreak of fire at the Lucknow Paper Mills was successfully combated and property worth several lakhs of rupees saved. Mr. Botting on this occasion worked for hours day and night holding himself the hose and directing the water in the midst of the flames.

PUNJAB.

Agha Saadat Ali Khan, B.A., Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer, a member of the well known Kazilbash family, entered the Punjab Police as a Sub-Inspector in 1905, and on his own merits rose to the gazetted grades in 1911, a promotion which he justified by consistently sound and reliable work. In February 1918, when he was officiating as Superintendent of Police, Shahpur, the inhabitants of Lak, a village of the Shahpur District, were giving trouble by opposing efforts to secure recruits for the army, not only in Lak itself but in neighbouring villages also. Proceedings were therefore taken under the Defence of India Rules against seven of the ringleaders, and, as serious opposition was expected, Agha

	Saadat Ali himself set out with a police detachment of about 80 rank and file accompanied by local notables to execute the warrant of arrest. On the 14th February on the way to Lak the police managed to secure one of the ringleaders at an outlying hamlet, and then proceeded towards the main village. As they advanced, the beating of drums became plainly audible, a clear indication that the villagers were assembling to resist, and at 800 yards from Lak the police were confronted with a mob of some 1,500 men armed with lathis, hatchets and spades. Attempts were made to parley and induce the rioters to disperse, but they were in a very truculent mood, and after demanding the release of the arrested ringleaders advanced on the police in a crescent-shaped formation. It may here be mentioned that a few timid spirits had just at this juncture counselled discretion as the better part of valour, but the officiating Superintendent of Police wisely held his ground and refused to imperil his men by an imprudent retreat, although vastly out-numbered. The police met the attack at first with buckshot at long range in the hope that the mob would be thus deterred from advancing further. As however the latter continued to advance apparently regardless of consequences, the police opened fire in volleys. The crowd then fell back about 300 yards whereupon firing was stopped and the police advanced. However, the villagers again facing round advanced on the police and, meeting more volleys of buckshot, once more retreated. A lambardar was then sent out to inform them that ball ammunition would be employed if they persisted in their attitude. The mob however advanced for a third time with vigorous beating of drums, and the police were in great danger of being outflanked. Agha Saadat Ali accordingly threw out a section which opened fire with ball ammunition. This had the desired effect. The mob wavered, broke and fled, having suffered casualties of 2 killed and about a dozen wounded. Subsequently about 150 of the rioters were arrested, of whom 50 were sent for trial.
	It is obvious that the officiating Superintendent of Police did all in his power to avoid bloodshed, and when this became inevitable, used no more force than was absolutely necessary to quell the disturbance. Agha Saadat Ali's calm courage and wise determination averted a serious disaster to the small police force, asserted the prestige of the administration, and quelled a disturbance that might have had very dangerous consequences.
31 Khan Sahib Munshi Ghulam Rasul, Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer entered the police as a constable in 1893 and by sheer merit worked his way up to the gazetted grades in 1916, having in the previous year been awarded the title of Khan Sahib in consideration of numerous valuable services rendered by him to the administration.
	In 1917 the Khan Sahib was engaged in operations having as their objective the rounding up of a desperate gang of dacoits known as the Dina gang, which has perpetrated many atrocious outrages in the Ferozepore and other neighbouring districts and Indian States. After some months of patient and unremitting endeavour, Munshi Ghulam Rasul received information that one of the ringleaders of the gang, Gujjan Singh, an ex-Sepoy of the 14th Sikhs, was being harboured in a house in the village of Patto (Ferozepore District). The information also showed that the dacoit, who had already at different times shot four men, was armed with a Winchester repeating rifle, a six chambered revolver and a plentiful supply of ammunition. The Deputy Superintendent of Police at once left for Patto taking a few men with him. Arriving at Patto he rushed straight into the house indicated and finding the outlaw in an inner room managed, at great personal risk, to bolt the door from outside. The outlaw was then called upon to surrender but refused. The Deputy Superintendent of Police then mounted the roof of the house and dug a hole in the portion over the outlaw's room. Gajjan Singh was then again summoned to surrender, and this time, believing discretion to be the better part of valour, quietly handed up his loaded rifle and revolver through the hole and then gave himself up. The cool and courageous action of the Deputy Superintendent of Police, who exposed himself to what appeared to be certain risk of being shot by a well armed desperado, is worthy of all praise.

32 Hakim Ikram-ul-Haq, Temporary Deputy Superintendent of Police.	This officer entered the police department as a 2nd grade head constable in August 1897. Since then by steady application to work and consistent uprightness and singleness of purpose he has risen through the sub-inspector's and inspector's grades to his present position of a provincial gazetted officer. Hakim Ikram-ul-Haq's character roll is one long record of excellent work without a blemish and the numerous commendations and rewards that he has earned, bear evidence of his excellent service to Government. Among the better known cases of late years in which this officer has distinguished himself may be mentioned the murder of Corporal Barlett in the train in 1911 in which he brought the offenders to justice and was presented with a double barrelled shot gun by Government; also the enquiries in the Faridkot State into the malpractices of officials in which the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab remarked that he had shown commendable zeal and devotion to duty in exceptional and trying circumstances. Hakim Ikram-ul-Haq's consistent excellent work render him a fitting officer for special recognition.
33 Sardar Anup Singh, Inspector of Police. (No. 205).	This officer after having served as a Risaldar in an Indian Cavalry regiment joined the police as an inspector in 1915, and in 1916 rendered excellent service in charge of a police camel corps which was raised for service in disturbed tracts. In April last it came to notice that a number of headmen in the Lodhran Tehsil of the Multan District had collected the people of the vicinity and made an illegal compact that no recruits should be allowed to enlist from their neighbourhood. This was followed by the appearance of mobs of villagers armed with axes and sticks. The local police were ordered to take action under the Defence of India Rules and the Indian Penal Code, and, as serious opposition was expected, Sardar Anup Singh was sent to the scene of the trouble with a detachment of police reserves. On the 6th May the police succeeded in arresting some of the ringleaders in the neighbourhood of Salsadr and confined them in a village school room. But, on the morning of the next day the school room was surrounded by two armed mobs numbering several hundred persons who were bent on rescuing the prisoners. The police were in a very critical position, but Inspector Anup Singh, who was in command of the party, promptly opened fire on the rioters who broke and fled after sustaining a few casualties. The inspector then pursued and succeeded in arresting about 30 of the offenders. The courageous attitude of the small police party and the prompt and decided action taken by Anup Singh put an end to a dangerous disturbance which, if unchecked, might have had very serious results.

34 Lancelot Colin Bradford Glascock, M.V.O., Superintendent of Police.	Mr. Glascock joined the Punjab Police in 1899 and, as an officer with a reputation for exceptional ability, has held charge of very important appointments such as Principal of the Police Training School and Superintendent of Police of the headquarters district of the province. At the Delhi Durbar, 1911, he was placed in charge of His Majesty the King-Emperor's camp, and for his services in this connection was appointed a member of the Royal Victorian Order. He has twice held charge of the Lahore district, on the first occasion for three years and on the second occasion for nearly two years. His services in charge of this, the largest and most important district in the province, earned the unstinted praise of the Commissioner of the Division and the Deputy Inspector-General of Police of the Range. Mr. Glascock has done ample justice to the most difficult police charge in the province in which he has shown himself to be possessed of, and to have exercised, specially distinguished administrative ability.
	BURMA.
35 Sydney Jennings, District Superintendent of Police.	Mr. Jennings has a specially distinguished record in administrative as well as in detective service. He joined the Burma Police as an Inspector in May 1888, and officiated as an Assistant Superintendent of Police from 1889 to 1903, when he was confirmed in that rank. He was made a District Superintendent of Police in May 1908, and as such has been in charge of the heaviest criminal districts of the Province, such as Henzada and Amherst. His work in the prevention and detection of crime has been distinguished by exceptional ability and merit.
36 Shanker Singh, 2nd grade Subadar, Chin Hills Battalion.	Prolonged service distinguished by very exceptional ability and merit; special service in dealing with serious and widespread outbreak of crime. This officer enlisted in the Burma Military Police in 1887, and has rendered over 30 years' service. He was in command at Haka at the outbreak of the rising in the Chin Hills in November 1917, and his dispositions for the defence of the station averted the possibility of any surprise by the rebels. He was in action with the enemy on the 11th December 1917 and had a bullet through his clothing.
37 Maung Ba, 1st grade Head Constable.	Conspicuous gallantry in attempting to arrest two armed thieves. On the night of the 2nd November 1910 Maung Ba was on night patrol duty in Mandalay when he heard a cry of "thieves." He ran to the spot and encountered two men, whom he challenged. One of the thieves was armed with a dah and the other with a stick. Maung

	Ba, who was alone, immediately engaged them both. A hand-to-hand struggle ensued, in which Maung Ba was badly wounded on the head and the left hand. The men retreated, followed by Maung Ba who closed with them again and wounded one of them in the chest, and then fell, too seriously injured to continue the encounter.

38 Walter Swain, Superintendent of Police.	Mr. Swain is an exceptionally energetic and keen officer. He was entrusted with the organisation of the Constables' Training School. As Principal of that School and Principal of the Police Training College Mr. Swain had a distinguished record. Though a comparatively junior officer he has officiated as Deputy Inspector General of Police on two occasions. While acting as Range Deputy Inspector General in 1917, the anti-kine killing disturbances in Shahabad in his Range broke out. Mr. Swain was early on the scene with the Police Reserve and was in more than one critical situation. He displayed considerable courage and presence of mind. Though the police force under him was too small to control the mobs numbering from 25 to 50 thousand, the police never lost their heads and displayed the utmost forbearance and steadiness, a result which was mainly due to the example set by Mr. Swain. The Commissioner in his report on the disturbances remarks as follows :— "Mr. Swain grappled with the situation with his usual ability and with untiring energy. He was everywhere and never seemed to rest. Not only was he of the greatest help in quelling the outbreak but ever since then his services in connection with the prosecution of the cases in Court have, as Government are aware, been invaluable." Subsequent to the disturbances Mr. Swain rendered valuable services in the preparation of the briefs of cases connected with the disturbances sent for trial before the Tribunals under the Defence of India Act. He was also most useful in raising and organizing a very large additional police force sanctioned for the affected area and in planning and supervising the construction of buildings required for them.
39 John Dun Boylan, Superintendent of Police.	Mr. Boylan has a blameless record and on several occasions has been specially commended in the annual report. He was the Superintendent of Police in Shahabad when serious anti-kine killing disturbances broke out. Mr. Boylan with a small armed force of some 25 constables proceeded to the scene of the outbreak and for the whole night held the rioters in check. The mobs numbered anything from 25 to 50 thousand when the rioters eventually attacked the village of Piru. Mr. Boylan with his handful of police succeeded in keeping them in check for a considerable time, and when the mob eventually got beyond control the small force of the police held its own in such areas as it was able to protect. Mr. Boylan was often in a critical situation and but for his coolness and presence of mind, an example of loyalty followed by his men, the police might easily have been overpowered and disarmed. The Special Tribunal which tried the rioters concerned in one of the first cases of the outbreak remarked as follows :—

" We cannot speak too highly of Mr. Boylan's untiring energy, coolness and presence of mind."

The Commissioner of the Division in his report on the disturbances says :—

" Mr. Boylan, the Superintendent of Police, Shahabad, showed remarkable coolness and presence of mind in a particularly trying and difficult situation."

When the disturbances were eventually brought under control with military help, Mr. Boylan supervised the investigation of cases and rendered valuable services in restoring the affected area to a normal condition.

40 Wilfred Arthur Prince Sealy, Superintendent of Police.

Both as an Assistant and as Superintendent of Police Mr. Sealy has a distinguished record. Though a comparatively junior officer Mr. Sealy has officiated as Deputy Inspector General on three occasions.

Mr. Sealy's services have been marked by exceptional ability and merit. No amount of work has been too much for him and the local Government consider his services deserving of special recognition.

41 Rai Bahadur Sri Krishna Mahapatra, Deputy Superintendent of Police.

In 1908 Rai Bahadur Sri Krishna Mahapatra was made a Deputy Superintendent. Up till then he had been attached to the Calcutta Police. In 1908 he was transferred to the Central Intelligence Department and for his good work in that Department he was granted the Royal Victorian Medal in 1912.

From July 1913 to August 1914 he was placed on special duty under the Chief Commissioner, Delhi, and during September and August of 1914 he was placed on special duty under the Home Department of the Government of India. He was granted the title of Rai Bahadur in 1914. Since his return to Bihar and Orissa in 1915, he has several times held charge of districts in which capacity his work has been of a very high order. In 1917 he was specially deputed to Shahabad to supervise enquiries into cases arising out of the Bakr Id disturbances which he did with his customary energy and skill, personally checking all the evidence on the spot before the cases came before the Tribunal Courts. After the work of investigation was complete he prepared the briefs for the public prosecutors appearing before the Special Tribunal at Arrah. In this connection too his work was of the first order. His specially valuable services deserve recognition.

42 Allan Stainer Hayling, Inspector of Police.

Mr. Hayling joined the police in 1887 as a European constable and after officiating as Subadar of "B" and "C" companies of the Military Police was confirmed as such in 1898 in which year he was promoted to the fourth grade of Inspector of Police. He has worked himself up to the first grade of Inspector, and had he possessed higher educational qualifications would doubtless have earned a Deputy Superintendentship. For the past six years he has, except for a short time, been in charge of the Constables' Training Schools at Ranchi, Nathnagar and Cuttack which post he has filled with marked efficiency. Throughout his service of thirty-one years he has never had a censure or reprimand

45 Subadar Bhowan Singh Bisht of the Lushai Hills Battalion.	His work throughout his service has been excellent. He has assisted in training drafts for the regular army. In the Kuki rising in Manipur he had for four months independent command of a column based on Bangmual at the trijunction of Manipur with the Lushai and Chin Hills districts. He captured the village of Ngaljang, an exceptionally good piece of work.
46 Subadar Pokul Thapa of the Naga Hills Battalion.	For excellent work with the Henima column against the Kukis in which he displayed cool determination and commanded his men in action on several occasions in a fine soldierly manner deserving of recognition.

NORTH-WEST FRONTIER PROVINCE.

47 John Murray Ewart, Superintendent of Police.	In April 1913 this officer was in command of the Bannu Frontier Constabulary when the raid known as the Kalur dacoity took place. In this affair Mr. Ewart had a very trying time for 5 days; his arrangements for intercepting the gang were most complete; and the pursuit was carried out with the very greatest energy and determination on his part. Mr. Ewart as Superintendent of Police of Bannu again came to notice in March 1917 in connection with the "Baran Nalla" case. He was present throughout the fighting by day and was in charge of night operations when it became too dark to continue an assault. Attempts to break through were frustrated and in the morning ten raiders, seven others being dead, surrendered to Mr. Ewart. In December 1917 Mr. Ewart was concerned in the rounding up near Bannu of a party of sixteen well armed raiders from Afghanistan. He was the officer who first received news of the whereabouts of the gang, and was responsible for all the preliminary arrangements. He was present throughout the fighting and rendered material assistance to the Military and the Frontier Constabulary. The annihilation of this gang was a remarkably fine piece of work. On these three occasions Mr. Ewart showed remarkable tenacity, courage and resource.
48 Umar Khan, Head Constable of Police (No. 330).	In April 1917 this officer was in command of a guard on the lockup at Darban, when the town was attacked. Though entirely beyond the sphere of his responsibilities he with a small party of police immediately made for the bazaar. No cover being available the police stood in the street and opened fire at close range. Throughout the affair this head constable led the resistance offered to the gang and was undoubtedly mainly responsible for saving the place being looted and set on fire.

49 Arther Finch Perrott, Assistant Superintendent of Police.	In May 1917, a gang of dacoits was located in gardens near Peshawar City. Mr. Perrott accompanied the party of police sent to deal with it. During the course of the operations Mr. Perrott at considerable personal risk rushed a number of the dacoits ; this led to the death of the leader and the capture of the gang. In December of the same year Mr. Perrott was with a party of the Frontier Constabulary when a well armed gang of sixteen raiders from Afghanistan was located in the Bannu district. During the operations Mr. Perrott led his party under heavy fire to a ditch within point blank range of the gang. There in addition to fire from the raiders the party was in considerable danger from bombs from our own side which were being thrown to induce the enemy to leave cover. In spite of the heavy casualties the gang was eventually annihilated. On both of these occasions Mr. Perrott behaved with great gallantry and showed fine tenacity and leadership.

Constable Thakur Din has been rewarded for good service on seven occasions during his career in the police.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA

CALCUTTA, DECEMBER 28, 1918

First Forecast WINTER OILSEEDS (Rape, Mustard, and Linseed), 1918-19

This forecast is based on reports received from those provinces where rape, mustard, and linseed are grown to any considerable extent. These provinces contain 98·6 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard and 98·9 per cent of the total linseed area in British India. Of the Indian States, estimates are furnished only for Hyderabad and the States in the Bombay Presidency (including Baroda). No report is made by any other Indian State.

Owing to scanty rains, the weather conditions have, on the whole, been unfavourable for sowings and the present condition and prospects of the crops are not satisfactory.

I

The total estimated area under rape and mustard reported up to date is 2,950,000 acres (excluding the mixed crop of the United Provinces for which no estimate is made at this stage). This is 23 per cent below the revised area at this time last year. The detailed figures for the provinces are:—

TOTAL	2,002,000	2,827,000	−825,000

The following is a summary of the provincial reports in respect of each crop :—

I—Rape and Mustard

United Provinces (39·7 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown with the unmixed rapeseed crop is estimated, on the basis of reports furnished by selected landholders, at 120,000 acres, which is 25 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. No estimate of the area under rape and mustard* sown interspersed with other crops is made at this time of year.* Owing to the failure of the September rains the season was unfavourable for sowings, and the area under the crop has in consequence been restricted. In the western districts the area sown will be considerably below normal. In unirrigated tracts prospects are at present uncertain. Where irrigation has been possible they are so far fair.

Bengal (20·5 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown is estimated at 1,119,000 acres, which is 3 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. The rainfall in September was deficient in the northern and western districts, but somewhat excessive in the eastern districts. There was plenty of moisture for the preparatory tillage. In most districts sowings began at the usual time, but soil moisture was much below the normal on account of the drought in October. The present condition of the crop is reported to be generally fair in the northern and eastern districts and poor elsewhere.

Punjab (16 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown up to the end of November is estimated at 573,000 acres, which is 42 per cent below the revised area at this date last year. Owing to deficient rainfall and shortage of canal water, the season has been very unfavourable for sowings. The condition and prospects of the irrigated crop are average to good, but the unirrigated crop, for which rain is badly wanted, is much below the average.

Bihar and Orissa (11·5 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown is at present estimated at 706,000 acres, which is 11 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. The decrease is attributed to unfavourable weather conditions owing to the failure of the late rain. Sowings were generally normal in Bihar, but were late in parts of Orissa and Chota Nagpur. The present condition of the crop is reported to be fair to good in the Tirhut division and in north Bhagalpur, but generally poor in the rest of the province.

Assam (4·8 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown is estimated at 270,000 acres, which is 3 per cent below the area reported at the corresponding date last year. The weather was generally dry at sowing time, and rain is wanted in most districts for the growth of the crop. The average outturn per acre is at present estimated at 83 per cent of the normal, as against 85 per cent estimated in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Bombay and Sind (4·2 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The estimates are up to the 5th December, and the information then available was incomplete. The total area so far sown is reported to be 109,000 acres (12,000 acres being in the Indian States), which is 63 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. Deficient water supply, due to low inundation, and want of rain account for the decrease in cultivation. The condition of the crop is good in Nawabshah and Upper Sind Frontier, but less satisfactory elsewhere.

North-West Frontier Province (1·9 per cent of the total area under rape and mustard in British India).—The area sown up to the end of November is estimated at 47,000 acres, which is 70 per cent below the area reported at the corresponding date last year. The decrease is chiefly attributed to drought, but the influenza epidemic was also a contributing factor. The condition of the crop is so far average in Peshawar, Kohat, and Bannu, but generally below average elsewhere. The prospects of the crop depend on the winter rains, which are badly wanted.

Hyderabad reports 6,000 acres under mustard, which is 33 per cent below the area reported last year. The outturn is estimated at 50 per cent of the normal, as against 56 per cent in the previous year.

II.—Linseed.

Central Provinces and Berar (37·1 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—The area sown is estimated at 686,000 acres, which is 41 per cent below the area reported at the corresponding date of last year. Sowings were generally made under favourable conditions in Seoni, Narsinghpur, Hoshangabad, Chhindwara, Nagpur, Amraoti, and the Vindyan districts ; but in the remaining districts the season was unfavourable. Germination was poor except in rich soils, and no resowing was possible anywhere owing to hardening and drying of the soil. Prospects are not satisfactory, for in addition to poor germination the crop has been seriously damaged by drought and insects. The recent rain, which fell in the last week of November and early in December, however, has improved the condition of the crop to some extent.

(a) Including Indian States.

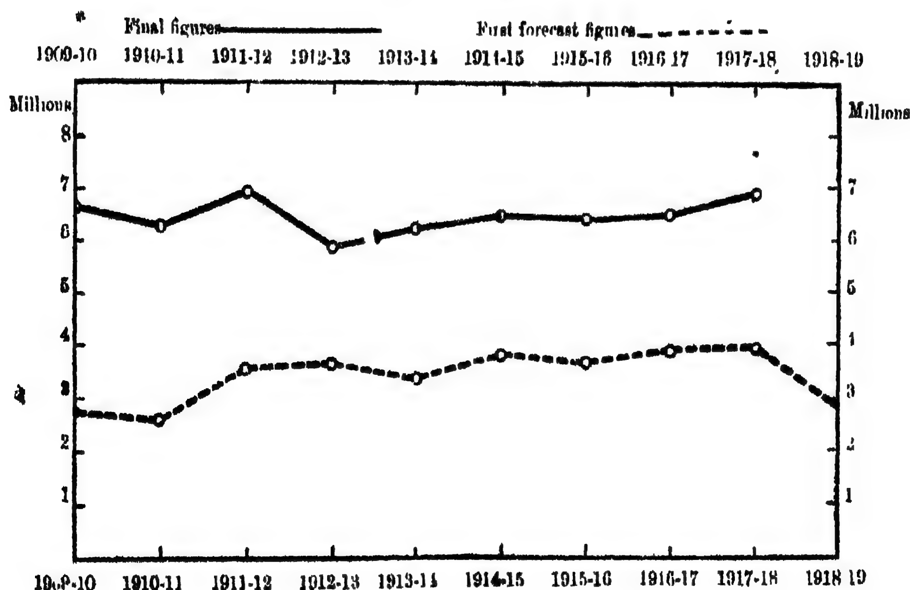
* The area under rape and mustard sown interspersed with other crops, such as gram, barley, etc., is given in the final forecast published in June.

United Provinces (28·9 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—On the basis of the reports furnished by selected landholders, the area under unmixed linseed is at present estimated at 210,000 acres which is 40 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. No estimate of the area under linseed sown interspersed with other crops is made at this time of year.* The decrease is attributed to the failure of the September rains. Prospects are at present uncertain in unirrigated tracts, but they are so far fair where irrigation has been possible.

Bihar and Orissa (21·1 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—The area sown is at present estimated at 582,000 acres, which is 20 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. The shrinkage in area is attributed to unfavourable weather conditions owing to the failure of late rains. In September the rainfall was below normal everywhere except in certain districts. Light and insufficient showers were received in a few districts in October and November. The present condition of the crop is reported to be fair to good in the Tirhut division and in north Bhagalpur, but generally poor elsewhere.

Bengal (5·8 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—The total area under linseed is estimated at 141,000 acres, as compared with 142,000 acres estimated at this date last year. In September the rainfall was deficient in the northern and western districts, but somewhat excessive in the eastern districts. The present condition of the crop is reported to be generally fair in the northern and eastern districts, and poor in the remainder of the province.

Bombay (4·8 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—Estimates are made up to the 5th December and at that date the information as to sowings was, as in former years, incomplete. The area so far sown is estimated at 41,000 acres (7,000 acres being in the Indian States), which is 60 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. The decrease is attributed to insufficient sowing rains. The present condition of the crop is reported to be generally fair.

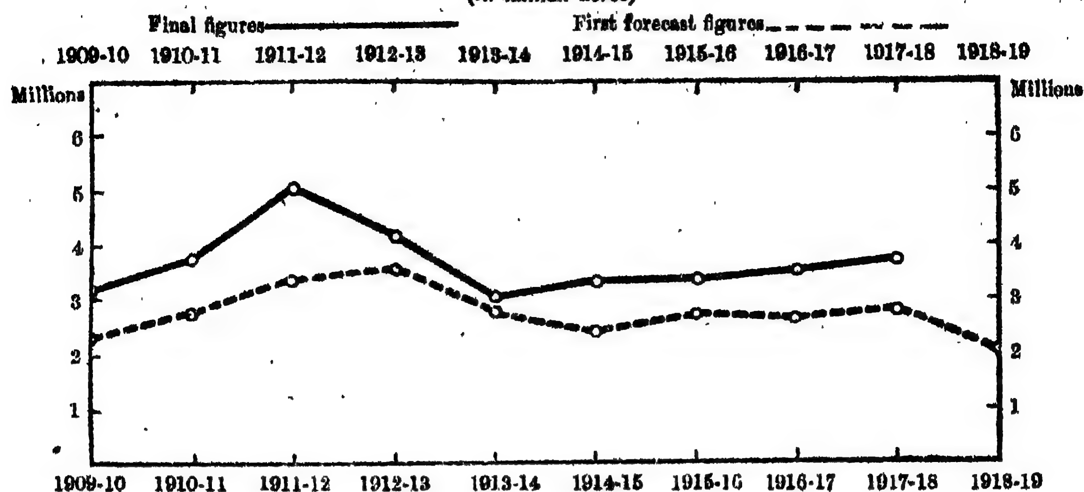


Punjab (1·2 per cent of the total area under linseed in British India).—The area sown is at present estimated at 29,000 acres which is 14 per cent below the estimate at this date last year. The season has been very unfavourable for sowings on account of deficient rainfall and shortage of canal water. The condition and prospects of the irrigated crop are average to good, but the unirrigated crop, which badly wants rain, is much below average.

Hyderabad.—The area under linseed is estimated at 313,000 acres, which is 3 per cent above the area reported at this date last year. The average outturn is at present estimated at 67 per cent of the normal, as against 64 per cent last year.

Chart.—The charts below illustrate the variations in the preliminary estimates of acreage, as compared with those in the final estimates, for all the reporting provinces in respect of each crop :—

(1) AREA OF RAPE AND MUSTARD



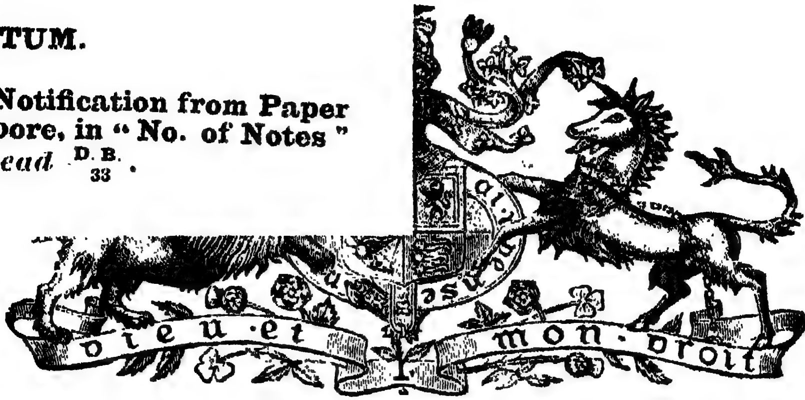
(In million acres)

*The area under linseed sown interspersed with other crops, such as gram, barley, etc., is given in the final forecast published in June.

(ii) AREA OF LINSEED

(In million acres)

Oilseeds crops in Foreign Countries.—The latest information published by the International Institute of Agriculture, Rome, shows that the estimates of the linseed crop of 1918 in the United States of America are 1,966,000 acres and 389,000 tons, as compared with 1,808,000 acres and 211,000 tons in the preceding year. The estimates for the Canadian crop of linseed are 927,000 acres and 175,000 tons, as against 918,000 acres and 148,000 tons in the previous year.



From un-official sources it appears that in the Argentine prospects of the linseed crop are excellent, and a very heavy yield per acre is anticipated. The area under the crop is estimated at about 3,400,000 acres.

No. 5 of 1918-19.

PREFATORY NOTE.

The Cotton Season, 1918-19.

In the Third Cotton Forecast published on the 18th December, 1918, the yield of the crop is provisionally estimated at 3,282,000 bales on an area of 19,677,000 acres, as compared with 4,035,000* bales on an area of 24,781,000 acres, the final estimates of last year. There is a decrease of 19 per cent in the outturn. There were 132,000 bales of cotton pressed in the pressing factories, and 62,000 bales of unpressed cotton received in the spinning mills, from 1st September to 15th November, 1918, as against 92,300 bales and 65,200 bales respectively, during the corresponding period of last year, showing an increase of 43 per cent in the case of presses, but a decrease of 5 per cent in the case of mills. Too much stress should not be laid on the accuracy of these returns as a means of checking the forecast estimates of outturn, as there is at present no system in vogue of furnishing complete returns from all presses and mills. The figures for the Indian States of Hyderabad, Central India, Rajputana, and Mysore are, as will be seen from the footnotes to the tables, mostly incomplete and have been excluded from this comparison.

* The trade estimate is, however, 3,860,000 bales. (Net exports 1,409,000 bales, mill consumption 1,701,000 bales and extra-factory consumption 750,000 bales.)

I.—Cotton Press Return for India in the half-month ending 15th November, 1918.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA,

PRESS COMMUNIQUÉ.

Census of Coal Consumption in India during 1917.

Under orders of the Government of India, a special census was undertaken in 1918, similar to that of 1917, by the Department of Statistics, with regard to the consumption of coal in the various industrial establishments in India during 1917. Circular letters were issued to the owners or managing agents of all coal consuming establishments, whose names and addresses were available, asking for statements of their actual consumption of coal in 1917. The circulars were responded to by all except by a few small concerns, viz., certain cotton gins and presses, a small number of brick and tile factories, and one or two rice and oil mills.

The results of the census are not without interest. It will be remembered that the total quantity of coal produced in India both from Act and non-Act mines (as well as from the coal-producing areas in Indian States) amounted in 1917 to the record production of 18,213,000 tons.* The census shows how much coal was consumed by railways, steamers, and Indian industries. Railways consumed 5,620,000 tons, or about 31 per cent of the total production. The consumption by railways seems to govern the year's production, the total production of coal and the consumption by railways moving together always in the same direction. In other words, the expansion of our railways closely affects the production of our coal mines. Bunker coal other than that required by the Admiralty and Royal Indian Marine was 1,514,000 tons. The quantity of coal consumed on Admiralty and Royal Indian Marine accounts was 1,429,000 tons and was exported by rail to Bombay and Karachi and by sea from Calcutta to Colombo, Rangoon, Basra and Singapur. This figure includes coal shipped for military purposes to East Africa, Aden, Mesopotamia and Persian Gulf Ports. Coal carried by rail in 1917 on account of the Admiralty and Royal Indian Marine to Bombay and Karachi amounted to 1,152,000 tons. The consumption of coal other than the above amounted to 6,322,000 tons. The net exports, including re-exports (exports to foreign countries on private account 409,000 tons minus imports 46,000 tons), were 363,000 tons. In short, the consumption by railways, steamers, Indian industries, and foreign countries amounted to 15,248,000 tons, as compared with a production of 18,213,000 tons. The balance, therefore, i. e., for which statistics are not completely available, is only 2,965,000 tons. This may be debited to :—

(1) Consumption at collieries and wastage. This amounted to 2,186,000 tons, equal to 12 per cent of the total production in India. This is the percentage arrived at in consultation with the Chief Inspector of Mines, India.

(2) Consumption in those industrial establishments which did not furnish returns—a small figure, and

(3) Domestic consumption. †

Detailed figures for the different classes of consumers are given below. Classes of industrial establishments, etc., consuming less than 50,000 tons each, have been included under "Others."

* Represents 17,326,000 tons in mines under the Indian Mines Act, 2,000 tons in non-Act mines and 885,000 tons in mines in Indian States.

† Domestic consumption in Calcutta and its neighbourhood is estimated by the Coal Controller at 200,000 tons per year.

No. 89.—The following rewards have been granted to the undermentioned for acts of gallantry or devotion to duty in the field:—

Awarded the Military Cross.

Jemadar Ami Lal, Horse.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 5th November 1917 when in charge of a sub-section of machine guns supporting the advance of the cavalry. Although exposed to heavy fire he continued to use his guns with great skill and coolness until the last squadron of cavalry had withdrawn. On another occasion he showed great coolness and judgment when in charge of led horses which were heavily shelled and suffered casualties.

Ressaidar Munsabdar Khan, Lancers.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 2nd November 1917. He was with a patrol which penetrated the enemy's lines at night, gaining much valuable information, and bringing back four prisoners, including two officers. He was of great assistance to his British officer in extricating the patrol from a position of considerable danger.

Subadar Dhirat Sing Pundir, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 28th-29th September 1917. His platoon throughout the operations was the most heavily engaged. He was posted on the right of the line and came under severe enfilade fire. He displayed the greatest coolness and ability directing the fire of his men until a bullet broke his leg.

Awarded the Indian Order of Merit (2nd class).

3081 Dafadar Talok Singh, Lancers.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 11th September 1917. He made a daring and successful reconnaissance of a ford across a river, which was close to the enemy trenches. On another occasion he handled the advanced scouts with great coolness under well directed and heavy fire.

3233 Lance Dafadar Kirpal Singh, Cavalry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 5th November 1917. During a reconnaissance of the enemy's position he led his patrol with remarkable coolness in the face of heavy fire to within a few hundred yards of the hostile trenches. Throughout the day he remained with his patrol in observation in an advanced and critical position, sending back most useful information.

Risaldar Sirdar Autar Singh, Cavalry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 27th September 1917. He accompanied his British officer on a reconnaissance round the right flank of the enemy position. When returning, a squadron of enemy cavalry endeavoured to cut them off. Risaldar Sirdar Autar Singh immediately took charge of a Hotchkiss gun and showed great coolness in the handling of it, whereby the hostile cavalry was held up long enough to enable the patrol to reach the cover of our picquet line. He has displayed gallantry on a previous occasion.

Jemadar Karam Ilahi, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the night of the 25-26th March 1918. He led his platoon under heavy fire against the enemy position, which resulted in the capture of two lines of trenches. He was wounded in the chest, yet in spite of his wound walked back two miles and reported himself.

3489 Sepoy Sardara Singh, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 5th November 1917. Although the remainder of his Lewis gun section had become casualties, he succeeded in bringing his gun into action, and kept it in action single-handed throughout the whole day, leaving the trench many times under heavy fire to collect ammunition from the wounded. By his determined and skilful handling of the gun he contributed largely in the repulse of a counter-attack.

2491 Sepoy Bhai Singh, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 5th December 1917. He and the No. 2 of his Lewis gun team charged an enemy trench under heavy fire, capturing five prisoners. He then got his Lewis gun into action and inflicted further casualties on the enemy. He behaved splendidly throughout the action.

2473 Sepoy Kora, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 5th December 1917. As No. 2 of a Lewis gun team he with his No. 1 charged an enemy trench, capturing five prisoners. When the supply of ammunition failed he moved about fearlessly under fire collecting more from casualties, and so kept the gun in action.

Subadar Balbahadur Sing Gusain, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 28th September 1917. His company was in the front line of the assaulting waves and came under heavy enfilade fire. He displayed remarkable coolness and the success gained was largely due to his magnificent work. This gallant officer was dangerously wounded in the thigh during the attack and subsequently succumbed to his injuries. His widow, if any, is admitted to the pension of the Order with effect from the date of his death.

Subadar Bir Sing Dahu, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 29th September 1917. He received a bullet wound through the point of his left shoulder, but never left the firing line, though from the nature of the wound, he would have been quite justified in doing so. His general conduct throughout, and his gallant behaviour when wounded, reflects the greatest credit on him. His work under fire and in trying and exhausting conditions was of the greatest value.

Subadar Tilok Sing Sauntiyal, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 28-29th September 1917. Although wounded in the head in the afternoon he refused to leave his platoon, and continued to command it in action throughout that day and the next, though by that time his wound was giving him considerable pain. He took up reinforcements and ammunition under fire to our advanced troops, and showed himself to be an able and courageous officer. He only went to hospital when ordered to do so by the medical officer.

2433 Sepoy Balwant Singh, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 28th September 1917. When a portion of his line was driven back 250 yards by an enemy counter-attack, he, supported by heavy artillery fire, remained behind on his own initiative with a non-commissioned officer and kept up rapid fire till the line was re-established.

Subadar Mula Singh, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 28-29th September 1917. He commanded two platoons, and greatly inspired his whole company by his coolness, judgment and initiative. His conduct under heavy fire and in difficult circumstances was most praiseworthy.

3890 Sepoy Harnam Singh, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 5th November 1917. When his company was temporarily held up by heavy machine gun fire from a flank, he arose and advanced alone. Stimulated by his fine example, his platoon at once followed him and carried through the attack without further check.

2715 Naik Kesbir Thapa, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 5th December 1917. His company being checked by machine gun fire, he advanced under fire with a Lewis gun and, selecting a good position, silenced the enemy's fire and so enabled the advance to continue.

4683 Naik Anaram Thapa, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 28th September 1917. As hospital naik he accompanied the medical officer and displayed marked courage, coolness and ability in attending to the wounded of all units for five hours in the open under continuous and heavy fire.

Subadar Dhan Sing Gurung, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 28th September 1917. When his company commander was wounded, he organised the company, dug forward trenches, and showed a splendid example of cool courage under fire that was most inspiring to all around him.

Jemadar Chint Ram Burathoki, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 28th September 1917. Although wounded he assisted in organising the supply of ammunition to the advanced troops, refusing to report to the regimental aid post till the next morning. Throughout the operations he inspired all ranks by his magnificent courage.

This officer has always displayed exceptional bravery.

2608 Naik Lilbahadur Sahi, Infantry.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 21st October 1917. During a reconnaissance his party came under heavy fire and lost 75 per cent. in casualties. Ordering his lance-naik to withdraw, he remained helping the wounded to get back, carrying one man himself under fire for quarter of a mile. He personally conducted stretcher parties and brought in more wounded who were lying out in the open.

Endeavours will, however, be made at receiving stations to advise consignees, when practicable, of the arrival of their goods and parcels. The cost of advices sent by post will be borne by the Company.

The person presenting the said receipt must sign his name on it and enter the date. An Indemnity Bond should be executed by the owner in all cases of loss of left luggage receipts.

(c) Before a left luggage receipt is given, the luggage ticket or parcel receipt issued at the forwarding station in the case of luggage received by railway, must be collected.

Season and Crop Prospects for week ending Saturday, 4th January 1919.

Burma.—The week was rainless. Reaping of winter rice is practically completed. Threshing and winnowing are becoming general in Upper Burma. Cultivation of miscellaneous winter crops is progressing normally. Harvesting of cotton, groundnuts, late sesamum and winter rice is still proceeding. Standing crops are generally good. Cattle are healthy. Price of unhusked rice in Rangoon remains stationary at Rs. 111 and is above normal. There is a great demand for white rice for early milling at Rs. 325 per hundred baskets for specials.

Assam.—The weather was generally seasonable but rain is wanted for mustard. Harvesting of winter rice and pulses, plucking of cotton and pressing of sugarcane continue. Pruning of tea is going on. Prospects of crops, except mustard, and outturns of winter rice, pulses, cotton and sugarcane are fair. Cattle disease is reported in one district. Price of common rice is practically stationary.

Bengal.—The week was rainless. Reaping of winter paddy is fast approaching completion. Threshing continues. Harvesting of potatoes, pulses and sugarcane is in progress. Prospects of standing crops are generally reported unsatisfactory owing to drought. Price of common rice has fallen by about 2 per cent.

Bihar and Orissa.—There was no rain during the week. Harvesting of winter paddy still continues. Threshing has commenced. Pressing of sugarcane is in progress. Prospects of the spring crops are bad owing to the absence of rain which is urgently wanted. Test works are going on in 20 places in Angul. Gratuitous relief was given to 1,188 persons in this district. Of the seventeen districts from which reports have been received the price of common rice has risen in five districts, fallen in three and remained stationary in the remaining districts as compared with that of the preceding week. Cattle disease is reported from four districts. The condition of standing crops in the Feudatory States of Orissa is bad. Harvesting of winter paddy continues and pressing of sugarcane is going on.

United Provinces.—With the exception of light showers in Dehra Dun, Saharanpur, Bareilly and Muzaffarnagar the week was rainless. Rain is badly needed. Some damage to spring crops by insects is reported from Ballia and Benares districts. Preparation of land for and sowing of spring crops are nearly finished. Irrigation of spring and extra crops and pressing of sugarcane continue. Condition of standing crops is fair. Prospects of spring crops on area sown are at present fair but mostly depend on winter rains. Condition of agricultural stock is good but cattle disease is still reported from some districts. Fodder is scarce and dear. Water and market supplies are generally sufficient. Prices have a tendency to rise. Test works have also been opened at Jhansi, Hamirpur and Banda districts. Numbers relieved on 4th January:—Etawah 2,367, Allahabad 453, Jalaun 1,185, Jhansi 171, and Banda 3,660. Number of inmates in poorhouses opened at Jhansi and Banda is 1 and 53 respectively. Forest hay has been supplied to the affected tracts and is being sold.

Punjab.—Light rain fell in parts of nearly all the reporting districts and was useful to the standing crops which are average to good on irrigated and much below average on unirrigated areas. More rain is badly wanted. Picking of cotton and pressing of sugarcane are in progress. The yield is below normal to normal on irrigated and poor on unirrigated areas. Wheat and other spring crops are being sown on irrigated areas in some districts. Area sown is below normal to normal. Harvesting of toria continues. The yield is below normal to normal. Cattle are generally healthy but fodder is scarce in most districts. Sugarcane is being used as fodder. Water is generally sufficient. Prices are generally stationary but have risen slightly in some districts. They are above scarcity rates. Prices of wheat:—Ambala, Lahore and Rawalpindi 5¼, Lyallpur 6 and Ferozepore 6¾ seers per rupee.

North-West Frontier Province.—Slight rain fell in one district. More rain is greatly needed throughout the province. Sowings of spring crops are in progress in places. Prospects of standing crops are average on irrigated and generally below average on unirrigated areas in Peshawar and Bannu and poor in Dera Ismail Khan owing to drought. Harvesting of maize and chari and pressing of sugarcane continue. Outturn is average. Prices of wheat:—Peshawar 7$\frac{1}{16}$ and Dera Ismail Khan 7$\frac{5}{16}$ seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Slight rain fell during the week. Prices are stationary. Fodder is insufficient.

Kashmir.—Report not received.

Rajputana.—The weather was cold and cloudy in places. Sowings and irrigation of spring crops continue. Cattle disease is prevailing in places. Water is sufficient. Prices are high and stationary.

Central India.—Rainfall was insufficient in Gwalior and Bundelkhand. Autumn crops are being harvested in Indore, Malwa and Southern States and have been completed in Gwalior and Baghelkhand. Cotton is being picked in Gwalior, Indore and Malwa. Spring crops are being sown in Gwalior, Bundelkhand, Malwa and Southern States. Standing crops are suffering for want of rain in Bhopal, are indifferent in certain districts of Gwalior, good on irrigated areas and fair elsewhere. Probable outturn is bad in northern districts of Gwalior, average in Bhopal except in Bhopal itself where it is 10 annas, is expected bad in Jaora, Rutlam and Sailana, below average in Dhar and Jhabua and fair elsewhere. Agricultural stock is bad in Gwalior and fair to good elsewhere except where cattle disease prevails. Scarcity of fodder prevails in Gwalior, Indore, Bhopal, Bundelkhand and parts of Malwa and Southern States. Prices are high but stationary. Sowings of opium have been completed in Gwalior and Indore. Number of persons on famine relief in Bundelkhand 174.

Central Provinces.—Only Saugor had twenty-five cents of rain. Elsewhere the weather has been clear and cool with occasional clouds. Picking of cotton and threshing and winnowing of other autumn crops are approaching completion. Generally speaking the condition of spring crops, except linseed, is satisfactory and prospects are favourable. Fodder and water are insufficient in parts of Nerbudda and Berar divisions. Cattle disease prevails in parts of Damoh, Jubbulpore, Chanda, Raipur and Yeotmal. Relief measures continue in Jubbulpore and Sironcha. Juar rose in Chindwara while gram became cheaper in Chanda by one seer per rupee. The prices of wheat and gram are falling but those of rice and juar indicate an upward course in parts of Jubbulpore and Nerbudda divisions.

The weekly report on Sironcha is as follows :—General health is improving in Sironcha and is good in Jubbulpore and Damoh, except for after effects of influenza. Distress is slightly increasing in Jubbulpore where there is some influx of people from adjoining states. Emigration to Assam from Jubbulpore is increasing. Prices of food grains are falling slightly. Numbers on works :—Sironcha 93, Damoh 957, Jubbulpore 951, total 2,001. Numbers on gratuitous relief :—Sironcha 1,701, Damoh 1,976, Jubbulpore 3,258, total 6,935.

Feudatory States.—Standing crops are generally in good condition.

Bombay.—Slight but beneficial rain fell during the week in parts of Sind. Standing crops are withering in parts of Sholapur, Satara and Karnatak; elsewhere they are fair to good. Autumn harvesting and spring sowing are nearly over. Cotton picking continues in parts of Sind, Gujarat, Sholapur and Baroda. Fodder supply is generally deficient but is being supplemented under control arrangements. Agricultural stock is generally sufficient but cattle are deteriorating in most districts. Irrigation is generally deficient. Prices of food grains are high but generally steady. Test works are in progress in Ahmedabad, Kaira, Panch Mahals and Ahmednagar. Scarcity has been declared in two talukas of Broach. Number on test works on last day of week ending 28th December 2,570. Number on gratuitous relief, Kathiawar 1,329.

Hyderabad.—No rain fell during the week. Autumn cotton is still being picked. Early rice is being harvested in parts, the crop suffered in some districts. Spring crops need rain. Condition is generally fair to good except in Aurangabad, Bir and Warangal districts. Late rice lands are being prepared and sown. Cattle are healthy except in some taluks in river districts where disease is reported. Fodder is scarce in some districts. Prices of grains continue abnormally high. Juar is selling at three seers per rupee in the Parbhani and Gulbarga districts.

Mysore.—The week was rainless. Standing crops are in fair condition. Harvested ragi outturn is poor to fair. Rice and sugarcane outturn is fair. Cattle are healthy. Prices are generally steady.

Coorg.—The weather was cold. Reaping of rice and picking of cardamom and coffee continue. Cattle disease prevails in some villages. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient. Public health is fair. Prices of food grains are high.

Madras.—Rainfall was light in Madras and nil elsewhere. Standing crops are fair generally but have been lost or are withering in parts owing to excess or deficiency of rainfall. Harvests of paddy, sugarcane and dry crops are limited with outturn sometimes fair but poor in parts of most districts. Sowings of paddy and dry crops are proceeding but are restricted in places for want of rain. Condition of cattle is good generally. Water is insufficient except in twelve districts. Pasture is sufficient except in parts of four districts. Fodder is sufficient, except in parts of eight districts. Prices have slightly risen. Prospects are fair generally but conditions in parts of Ganjam, Vizagapatam and Godaveri continue unsatisfactory. Starting of relief measures in one division in Ganjam is contemplated. Weavers' relief in Anantapur is no longer necessary owing to sudden change in conditions.

RESOLUTION.

ABOLITION OF THE CENTRAL TRANSPORT AND FOODSTUFFS BOARD WITH THE CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES FROM THE 1ST JANUARY 1919.

Delhi, the 8th January 1919.

With the cessation of hostilities, the Government of India desire to review the circumstances in which, as a result of the Delhi Conference in April 1918, it was decided to constitute, among other organizations at Headquarters, a Central Transport and Foodstuffs Board, the functions of which were primarily to secure the more efficient exploitation of India's resources in the matter of animal and mechanical transport and to obtain information and advise Government as to measures calculated to develop the production of foodstuffs, to encourage the local consumption of local products and generally to inculcate economy of resources in allied directions.

The full Board consisted of the following gentlemen :—

Chairman.

The Hon'ble Sir Claude Hill, K.C.S.I., C.I.E., I.C.S.

Deputy Chairman and Secretary.

Lieutenant-Colonel C. W. Waddington, C.I.E., M.V.O.

Members.

His late Highness the Maharaja of Faridkot.

Brigadier-General Sir Hugh Bray, Kt., Controller of Contracts.

A representative ad hoc of the Army Remount Department, when necessary. (Brigadier-General C. F. Templer, C.M.G., C.I.E.)

J. MacKenna, Esq., C.I.E., I.C.S., Agricultural Adviser to the Government of India.

The Hon'ble Khan Zulfikar Ali Khan, C.S.I., of Malerkotla.

Lieutenant-Colonel H. A. Cameron, C.I.E., R.E., Controller of Traffic.

Colonel F. W. Hallowes, C.I.E., Director of Grass Farms, Quartermaster-General's Branch.

E. A. A. Joseph, Esq., I.C.S., Director of Agriculture, Punjab.

Colonel H. T. Pease, C.I.E., M.R.C.V.S., Principal, Punjab Veterinary College.

Lieutenant-Colonel W. P. Robinson, D.S.O., Assistant Director of Transport (Mechanical Transport), Quartermaster General's Branch.

Sirdar Jogendra Singh.

H. T. Conville, Esq., of Montgomery.

Khan Bahadur Khalifa Hamid Hussain, of Patiala.

G. A. Moncrieff, Esq., of the Alliance Bank of Simla.

G. S. Henderson, Esq., N.D.A., N.D.D., Controller (Agricultural Requirements), Mesopotamia.

2. For the purposes indicated above, the Board was divided into two Sub-Committees dealing respectively with animal and mechanical transport and with foodstuffs, the latter of which also undertook the work of collating indents from the forces overseas for agricultural supplies and of corresponding with the Agricultural Directorate in Mesopotamia on behalf of the Quartermaster General's Department. In connection with the Central Board analogous Committees were constituted in all the provinces and in many of the Indian States in furtherance of the resolutions of the Delhi Conference, and the work of these advisory bodies has proceeded pari passu with that of the Central Board, which has co-ordinated their efforts and disseminated information likely to be useful in pursuance of the objects enumerated above.

3. In consequence of the heavy demands for food-grains made upon India by the United Kingdom and the allied nations, combined with the difficulty of railway transport in India caused by the exigencies of the war, one of the main functions of the Board since its inception has been to collect information regarding the stocks and requirements of food-grains and fodder in the different provinces and States of India and to advise as to the distribution of available supplies from exporting to importing provinces in the most efficient and economical manner. With these objects, a Conference of Directors of Civil Supplies, Railway Officers and others was held at Nagpur on the 19th and 20th of August 1918, and a second Conference at Delhi on the 15th of October. Before the latter Conference was held, however, the continued and widespread failure of the monsoon had created such a critical situation over the greater part of India that the Government of India found it necessary to restrict the export of wheat to all destinations except Mesopotamia, to control the export of rice, and to substitute for a purely advisory body an executive officer with extensive powers. The consequent appointment of a Foodstuffs Commissioner relieved the Board of its functions relating to the distribution of food-grains. The remaining functions of the Board may be summarised as measures to stimulate the production of food-grains, the distribution of fodder, the registration of animal and mechanical transport, and the supply of seeds, cattle and agricultural machinery to Mesopotamia and other theatres of war. The measures initiated under these heads have been to a great extent completed, and in the opinion of the Government of India the time has arrived when the remainder of the Board's work can be resumed by the departments to which each function of the Board is specially related. The Central Board has accordingly been dissolved with effect from the 1st January 1919, and the Government of India desire to express their acknowledgment of the very useful purpose which it has served in furthering those of the objects of the Delhi Conference which were committed to its care, and their appreciation of the care and attention which the Deputy Chairman and members of the Board have devoted to the various important matters submitted for their consideration. The Board included on its personnel several non-official members and the Governor General in Council desires to convey to them his appreciation of the public spirit which induced them, in many cases, to attend and afford their assistance at great personal inconvenience.

Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be published in the Gazette of India and forwarded to Local Governments and Administrations for information, and to all members of the Board.

MEMORANDUM ON THE PROBABLE CHARACTER OF THE WEATHER IN NORTHWEST INDIA IN JANUARY AND FEBRUARY, 1919.

DATA OF RECENT WEATHER.

(a) The retreat of the monsoon.—The retreat of the monsoon from northern and central India occurred much before the usual date with the result that weather was abnormally dry over the tract from Assam to Rajputana and Gujarat. In the Peninsula there was abundant rain in November in most places, and in December only in Hyderabad, Mysore and Malabar. Hardly any rain due to the monsoon has occurred since the 19th, but it is doubtful whether the current has yet withdrawn finally from the Peninsula.

(b) The conditions in Persia and northwest India.—Disturbances of the cold weather type were more numerous than usual, but most of them were of small vitality and gave appreciable rain or snow only in the extreme north.

In Persia rainfall was on the whole scanty in November and about the average in December. Little information is available regarding the character of the snowfall in Afghanistan, but in Baluchistan the season has begun rather more severely than usual. In the mountain zone bordering the Punjab snowfall appears to have begun earlier than usual and to have been unusually heavy in Drosh, Kulu and perhaps Ladak, in moderate excess in Kashmir and the Simla Hills, and up to the average in the North-West Frontier Province apart from Drosh. The snowline is reported to have come down to 6000 feet in the Kulu hills on November 30th. At present the depth of snow on the Lowarai pass is said to be about 15 feet, or 5 feet more than the average.

The December rainfall in the Punjab and North-West Frontier Province is on the whole normal.

(c) The seasonal changes in the upper air.—During the monsoon period the winds at heights of five or six miles are of moderate strength, but with the advent of winter these increase; they are now of about a hundred miles an hour. Data at Agra go back to 1914, and the upper winds of 1918 though very slightly less strong in October than in 1914 have become very slightly stronger in December.

DISCUSSION.

2. There is a tendency when the monsoon extends farther north than usual in December for the southern limit of the winter rains to be further north than usual, so that they are lighter in northwest India. From (a) it will be seen that there is nothing abnormal in this respect this year. There is also a strong tendency towards persistency in the character of the winter, so that it is likely to be severe when December is severe. This year according to (b) the season has been rather more severe than usual.

It is on general grounds highly probable that the seasonal changes of the upper air discussed in (c) will afford an indication of the character of the season at ground level; and this idea is strongly supported by the evidence available. In 1915-16 and 1916-17, when the January and February rains failed, the previous upper winds were feeble; and in 1917-18, when the winter precipitation was in defect, the winds were less strong than in 1914-15, when the season was normal. At the present time the indication derived from this consideration is that the winter will be normal.

SUMMARY.

The indications suggest that the total rainfall of northwest India in January and February and the snowfall on the neighbouring hills will be roughly normal.

Director-General of Observatories.

COTTON PRESS RETURN.

No. 6 of 1918-19.

PREFATORY NOTE.

The Cotton Season, 1918-19.

In the Third Cotton Forecast, published on the 18th December, 1918, the yield of the crop is provisionally estimated at 3,282,000 bales on an area of 19,677,000 acres, as compared with 4,035,000* bales on an area of 24,781,000 acres, the final estimates of last year. There is a decrease of 19 per cent in the outturn. There were 228,000 bales of cotton pressed in the pressing factories, and 77,000 bales of unpressed cotton received in the spinning mills, from 1st September to 30th November, 1918, as against 172,000 bales and 98,000 bales, respectively, during the corresponding period of last year, showing an increase of 33 per cent in the case of presses, but a decrease of 21 per cent in the case of mills. Too much stress should not be laid on the accuracy of these returns as a means of checking the forecast estimates of outturn, as there is at present no system in vogue of furnishing complete returns from all presses and mills. The figures for the Indian States of Hyderabad, Central India, Rajputana, and Mysore are, as will be seen from the footnotes to the tables, mostly incomplete and have been excluded from this comparison.

* The trade estimate is, however, 3,860,000 bales. (Net exports 1,409,000 bales, mill consumption 1,701,000 bales and extra-factory consumption 750,000 bales.) The estimate of mill consumption is based on the statistics of yarn produced by the mills, and excludes the quantity of waste cotton sold by the mills, which is included partly in "net exports" and partly in "extra-factory consumption."

G. FINDLAY SHIRRAS,
Director of Statistics

Published by order of the Governor-General in Council

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS, INDIA.

TRADE FLUCTUATIONS IN SELECTED ARTICLES IN NOVEMBER, 1918.

The object of the tables appended is to show the quantities of the principal staples of agricultural produce imported from the various provinces, etc., and from foreign countries into the ports of Calcutta, Bombay, and Karachi, and into the Madras ports during the month of November, 1918, and for the eight months, April to November, 1918, as compared with the corresponding periods of 1917. The statistics include sea-borne foreign and coasting trade as well as inland (rail and river-borne) trade. They have been furnished by Collectors of Customs, Steamer Companies, Railway Audit Officers, the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, etc.

TRADE FLUCTUATIONS IN NOVEMBER, 1917 AND 1918.

It will be seen from Table I that the imports by rail, river, and sea in November, 1918, as against the corresponding month of 1917, show (in round numbers) an increase of—

942 per cent in linseed
(61,200 tons as against 5,900 tons last year),
54 per cent in jute
(554,600 bales as against 360,000 bales last year),
19 per cent in rape and mustard seed
(11,600 tons as against 9,700 tons last year), and
12 per cent in raw cotton
(168,600 bales as against 151,000 bales last year).

There was a fall of 62 per cent in the imports of wheat (excluding wheat flour) (36,500 tons as against 95,700 tons last year) on account of smaller exports from the Punjab, the United Provinces, the Central Provinces and Berar, and Rajputana and Central India. The imports of gram and pulse show a decrease of 54 per cent (34,300 tons as against 75,300 tons last year), due mainly to smaller exports from the United Provinces, Bihar and Orissa, and the Central Provinces and Berar. The imports of tea represent a decrease of 30 per cent (29,432,500 lbs as against 42,937,600 lbs last year), owing to smaller exports mainly from Assam and Bengal. The decrease of 2 per cent in the imports of rice (including paddy) (106,900 tons as against 108,700 tons last year) is accounted for by smaller shipments from Burma.

It will be seen from Table IV (wheat, excluding wheat flour) that the principal source of the imports in November, 1917, was the Punjab. During November, 1918 also, the principal source of the imports was the Punjab (61 per cent of the total). Table XI shows the exports out of India of wheat (including wheat flour) month by month during the last six years.

NOTE.—One bale of cotton or jute is equivalent to 400 lbs.
One maund is equivalent to 82⅐ lbs.
One maund of paddy is taken as equivalent to 25 seers of rice.

GENERAL RESULTS—EIGHT MONTHS' IMPORTS INTO THE PORTS FROM UP-COUNTRY, ETC., THIS YEAR AND LAST YEAR.

The eight months' figures in table I show (in round numbers) an increase of—

120 per cent in linseed
(251,900 tons as against 114,600 tons last year),

35 per cent in jute
(3,465,800 bales as against 2,563,600 bales last year),

14 per cent in gram and pulse
(615,100 tons as against 541,400 tons last year),

7 per cent in rice (including paddy)
(690,100 tons as against 645,400 tons last year), and

3 per cent in tea
(196,501,500 lbs as against 189,933,500 lbs last year).

The imports of wheat (excluding wheat flour) by rail, river, and sea into ports show a decrease of 52 per cent (772,300 tons as against 1,611,100 tons last year), mainly on account of smaller exports from the Punjab, the Central Provinces and Berar, Rajputana and Central India, and Sind and British Baluchistan. The decrease of 22 per cent (1,566,800 bales as against 2,066,300 bales last year) in raw cotton is accounted for by smaller receipts chiefly from Bombay, the Central Provinces and Berar, Rajputana and Central India, and Madras. The imports of rape and mustard seed show a fall of 3 per cent (88,600 tons as against 91,700 tons last year) owing to smaller exports, principally from the United Provinces.

TRADE FLUCTUATIONS IN NOVEMBER, 1918, AS COMPARED WITH THE PREVIOUS MONTH.

As compared with October, 1918, the imports in November, 1918, into the ports referred to above show (in round numbers) an increase of—

154 per cent in raw cotton
(168,600 bales as against 66,300 bales previous month),

64 per cent in rape and mustard seed
(11,600 tons as against 7,100 tons previous month),

52 per cent in linseed
(61,200 tons as against 40,300 tons previous month), and

29 per cent in rice (including paddy)
(106,900 tons as against 82,800 tons previous month).

and a decrease of—

22 per cent in tea
(29,432,500 lbs as against 37,920,900 lbs previous month),

3 per cent in gram and pulse
(34,300 tons as against 35,400 tons previous month), and

3 per cent also in jute
(554,600 bales as against 572,900 bales previous month).

TARIFF VALUATION OF SUGAR.

The following statement shows in respect of each of the descriptions of sugar distinguished in the Tariff Schedule II (except molasses and all other kinds of sugar), first, the total imports into India in the month of December 1918, and the average value per cwt. as calculated on the returns received from the Customs Houses; and, secondly, a running total showing the total imports into India since the beginning of the year (1st October to 30th September) and the average net value per cwt. so far established. It is published in conformity with the procedure laid down in Customs Circular No. V of 1911, in order to enable merchants to compute the probable rate of duty for the year 1920:—

PRESS NOTE.

Rise in prices at the end of November 1918.

WHOLESALE PRICES.

The general level of wholesale prices in the five chief ports at the end of November 1918, indicates the way in which the war affected the general demand for Indian exports which fetched in almost all markets high prices. The general results showed a rise of 121 per cent above that at the outbreak of war (end of July 1914), and of 19 per cent as compared with December 1917. The prices, however, declined by 6 per cent as compared with the period at the end of the fourth year of war (August 1918), as will be seen from the following table.

Index Numbers of wholesale prices.

AVERAGE (UNWEIGHTED)	100	163	186	234	221

Compared with the pre-war level, the rise at the end of November, 1918, was 196 per cent in Madras, 138 per cent in Bombay, 112 per cent in Karachi, 83 per cent in Calcutta, and 78 per cent in Rangoon. The articles in the general index number of each port are the staples of that port and the number so selected is not identical in all these ports.

The fluctuations in the wholesale prices of the principal articles of trade in each port are stated below.

Retail Prices.

Retail prices in India, including articles of food, fuel and lighting, at the end of November, 1918, as computed from the index numbers of port prices stated below, showed an increase of 55 per cent above the level of prices which ruled immediately before the war, and of 26 per cent as compared with December, 1917. The prices advanced by 12 per cent in comparison with August, 1918 (end of the fourth year of war).

The rise at the end of November, 1918, as compared with December, 1917, was 40 per cent in Bombay, 29 per cent in Madras, 27 per cent in Rangoon, 18 per cent in Karachi, and 14 per cent in Calcutta.

Food prices.

If the retail prices of articles of food only are taken into account, the rise at the end of November, 1918, was 51 per cent above the pre-war level and 27 per cent as compared with December, 1917, as will be seen from the table below.

It should be remembered here that these calculations are only approximate in gauging the exact rise in the cost of living especially in war time (when articles have large proper variations). It should also be noted that these are based on unweighted index numbers of prices, i.e., the articles have been given generally an equal importance in the general average. Food grains, however, have been indirectly weighted by more than one grade of the article having been included in the index numbers.

The weighted average* of food prices in Calcutta at the end of November, 1918, showed a rise of 29 per cent as compared with July, 1914, and of 16 per cent as compared with December, 1917.

The fluctuations in the retail prices of the principal articles of consumption in each port are shown in the following table:—

PRICES IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

The following statistics mainly compiled from the Labour Gazette of the Ministry of Labour, London, show the latest available information regarding the rise in food prices in certain foreign countries, and it is interesting to compare the rise in India with that in the countries abroad:—

The rise in the prices of principal articles of food for the maintenance of human life (viz bread, butter, beef and milk) in the following European countries and in the United States was recently published in the Times, London, on 25th November 1918. To this table have been added the prices of these articles in the chief ports of India. It must, however, be noted that different forms of control are exercised in the European countries named below, and this is particularly true of Germany where in some cases prices are nominal, goods not being obtainable at the official rates. A caveat is also necessary that in India rice should be taken in place of bread and ghee (clarified butter) in place of butter. The figures would then be:—July 1917 (115), October 1917 (113), and July 1918 (124), and October 1918 (137).

CROP FORECAST.

SESAMUM.

Final General Memorandum on the SESAMUM (til or jinjili) crop of 1918-19.

This memorandum is based on reports received from provinces which contain, on an average, 76 per cent * of the total area under sesamum in British India. Of the Indian States, estimates are furnished by Hyderabad and the States in the Bombay Presidency (including Baroda). The present estimates are final for all the provinces and States, except Madras and Hyderabad. A supplementary memorandum will be issued in April containing the final estimates for Madras and Hyderabad.

The total area reported amounts to 3,251,000 acres, which is 19 per cent below the revised area at this time last year.

The total yield is estimated at 188,000 tons (excluding Hyderabad for which no estimate of outturn is made at this date). This is 43 per cent below the revised estimate on this date last year. The detailed figures for the provinces are :—

The season, on the whole, has been very unfavourable owing to drought.

The provincial reports are summarised below :—

United Provinces (25 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The area under sesamum sown unmixed is reported to be 207,000 acres, which is 10 per cent above that of last year. The yield of the unmixed crop is estimated at 8,000 tons which is 47 per cent below last year's yield. The area and yield of sesamum sown in combination with other crops and largely retained for local consumption are roughly estimated at 925,000 acres and 38,000 tons, as against 850,000 acres and 67,000 tons last year. The crop suffered severely from drought in all the important sesamum growing districts. For the province as a whole the average outturn per acre is estimated at 35 per cent of the normal, as compared with 60 per cent last year.

Central Provinces and Berar (16 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The area is estimated at 464,000 acres (47,000 acres being in Berar), which is 8 per cent below that of last year. The total yield is estimated at 31,000 tons (4,000 tons being in Berar), which is 3 per cent above that of last year. The crop suffered from the prolonged drought which prevailed from the second week of September to the third week of November. The average outturn for the provinces is estimated at 65 per cent of the normal.

Madras (15·8 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The area sown up to 1st January is estimated at 482,000 acres, as against 630,000 acres estimated at this date last year, or a decrease of 23 per cent. The decrease is general and is attributed to the lateness of both the south-west and north-east monsoons. The total outturn is estimated at 59,000 tons, which is 30 per cent below the estimate made at this time last year. The south-west monsoon crop failed in parts of the Deccan and has been poor everywhere ; the cold weather crop has done better. The average outturn is estimated at 91 per cent of the normal.

Bombay (5·5 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The area is reported to be 241,000 acres (154,000 acres being in the Indian States), which is 68 per cent below that of last year. The decrease is general and is mainly due to deficient rainfall at sowing time. The yield is estimated at 11,000 tons (6,000 tons being in the Indian States), which is 85 per cent below last year's yield. In Gujarat, except in parts of Surat, the crop withered up owing to a long break after sowing, and the condition of the crop is very poor. Elsewhere, the crop is reported to be in poor to fair condition.

Bengal (4·8 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area under both early and late crops now amounts to 218,000 acres, which is 3 per cent below that of last year. The total yield is estimated at 25,000 tons, which is 11 per cent below last year's yield. For the early crop the season was unfavourable, owing to drought from sowing time till the beginning of March ; and at harvest time the crop was greatly damaged by excessive rain. For the late crop the season was unfavourable throughout. The crop suffered from drought and the prospects are poor. The average outturn per acre is estimated at 70 per cent of the normal for the early crop and 62 per cent for the late crop.

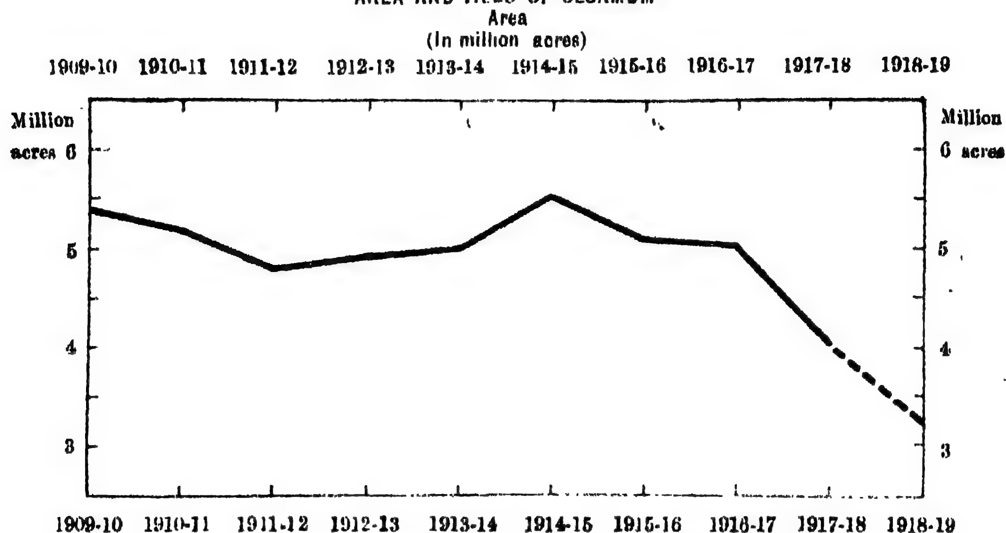
Bihar and Orissa (4 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area sown with both early and late crops now amounts to 139,000 acres, which is 3 per cent below that of last year. The total yield is estimated at 10,000 tons, which is half that of last year. The weather conditions were generally favourable for the early crop. For the late crop the conditions, although favourable in the beginning of the season, were bad in the latter part owing to the absence of rain. The average outturn per acre is estimated at 90 per cent of the normal for the early crop and 45 per cent for the late crop.

Punjab (3 5 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The area is reported to be 55,000 acres, which is 55 per cent below that of last year. The decrease is attributed to insufficient rains at sowing time. The yield is estimated at 5,000 tons, which is 54 per cent below last year's yield. The season was not favourable owing to drought, and the yield was generally below normal or poor.

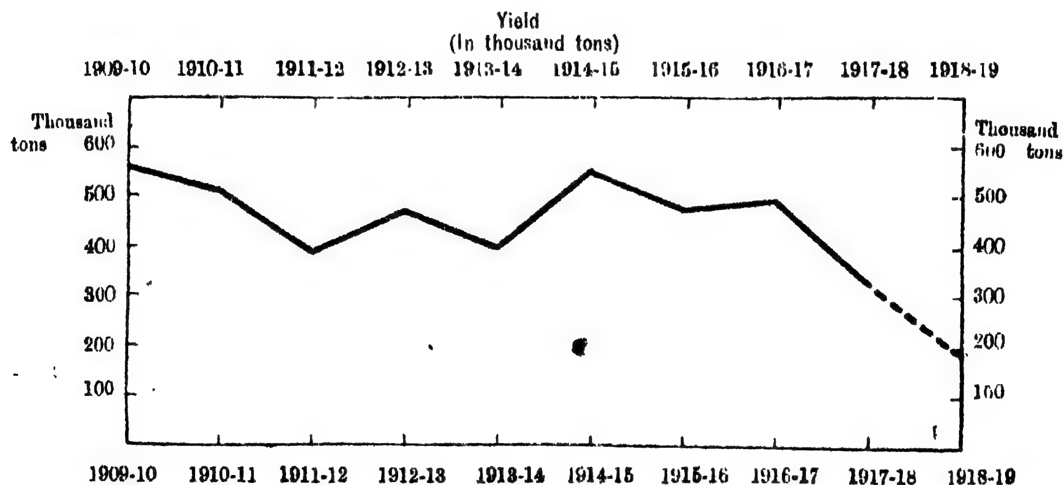
Sind (1·1 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The area is estimated at 15,000 acres (1,000 acres being in the Khairpur

* The area under sesamum in Burma is excluded. On an average this is over 23 per cent of the area under sesamum in British India.

(a) The estimates for Madras and Hyderabad are not final. (b) Including Indian States. (c) Excluding Hyderabad. (d) Subject to revision.



State), which is 66 per cent below last year's area. The decrease is attributed to low inundation and scanty rain. The yield is estimated at 1,000 tons, which is 75 per cent less than last year's yield. The crop is reported to be poor to fair.



Ajmer-Merwara (0·5 per cent of the total area under sesamum in British India).—The total area is reported to be 3,000 acres, as against 25,000 acres last year. The yield is estimated at only 30 tons, as compared with 200 tons last year. The decrease is due to the failure of rains.

Hyderabad reports 502,000 acres, which is 6 per cent below the area reported at this date last year. The yield is estimated at 36 per cent of the normal as against 38 per cent last year.

Chart.—The charts below show the present estimates of the total area and yield, as compared with the final figures of the preceding nine years.

No. 13.—The Governor General has been pleased, under Rule 23 of the Rules for the Conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Governor General, to order the publication in the Gazette of India and in the local official Gazettes in English of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, and the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information :—

BILL No. 1 OF 1919.

A Bill to provide for the amendment of the Indian Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian
860. Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure,
98. 1898, in order to deal more effectively with certain acts dangerous to the State; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Criminal Law (Amendment) Act, 191 .

Insertion of new section 124-B in Act XLV of 1860.

840. 2. In Chapter VI of the Indian Penal Code after section 124-A the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

Possession of seditious documents.

"124-B. Whoever has in his possession any seditious document intending that the same shall be published or circulated shall, unless he proves that he had such document in his possession for a lawful purpose, be punishable with imprisonment, which may extend to two years, or with fine or with both.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, the expression "seditious document" means any document containing any words, signs or visible representations which instigate or are likely to instigate, whether directly or indirectly—

(a) the use of criminal force against His Majesty or the Government established by law in British India, or against public servants generally or any class of public servants or any individual public servant, or

(b) the commission or abetment of anything which is an offence against sections 121, 121-A, 122 or 131."

Insertion of new section 196-B in Act V of 1898.

3. After section 196-A of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898, (hereinafter referred to as the said Code) the following section shall be inserted, namely : —

Preliminary inquiry in certain cases.

"196-B. In the case of any offence referred to in section 196 or 196-A, the District Magistrate or the Chief Presidency Magistrate may, notwithstanding anything contained in those sections or in any other part of this Code, order a preliminary inquiry by a police-officer not below the rank of an Inspector, in which case such police-officer shall have the powers referred to in section 155 (3)."

Amendment of section 343, Act V of 1898.

4. To section 343 of the said Code, the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that a promise of protection to an accused person against criminal force or any promise properly incidental to a promise of such protection, shall not be deemed to be the use of influence within the meaning of this section."

Insertion of new section 510-A. in Act V of 1898.

5. After section 510 of the said Code, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

(a) that the person accused has previously been convicted of an offence under that Chapter, and

(b) that such person has habitually and voluntarily associated with any person who has been convicted of an offence under that Chapter:

Insertion of new section 565-A. in Act V of 1898.

6. After section 565 of the said Code, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

Security on conviction of an offence under Chapter VI of Act XLV of 1860.

(2) An order under sub-section (1) may also be made by an Appellate Court, or by the High Court when exercising its powers of revision.

(3) If the Court makes an order under sub-section (1), it shall further direct that, until the person who is the subject of the order furnishes the required security, such person shall notify to the Local Government or to such officer as the Local Government may by general or special order appoint in this behalf, his residence and any change of residence after release for the period for which security is required.

(4) Where any person is under an obligation to notify, in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (3), his residence and any change of residence after release, the Local Government may by order in writing direct that such person—

(a) shall not enter, reside or remain in any area specified in the order,

(b) shall reside or remain in any area in British India so specified, and

(c) shall abstain from addressing public meetings for the furtherance or discussion of any subject likely to cause disturbance or public excitement, or of any political subject or for the distribution of any writing or printed matter relating to any such subject.

(6) If the conviction is set aside on appeal or otherwise, all orders made under the provisions of this section shall become void.

Explanation.—In this section the expression "public meeting" has the same meaning as is assigned to it by section 3 of the Prevention of Seditious Meetings Act, 1911."

Amendment of Schedule II, Act V of 1898.

7. In Schedule II of the said Code in the entries relating to Chapter VI, after the entry relating to section 124-A, the entry contained in the Schedule shall be inserted.

THE SCHEDULE.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill gives effect to the recommendations contained in Chapter XVII of the Report of the Rowlatt Committee in so far as they relate to Punitive Measures (Permanent). Further clause 3 adds to the Criminal Procedure Code a new section 196-B as drafted by the Committee appointed to consider and revise the Criminal Procedure Code (Amendment) Bill.

The relevant portions of the Report of the Rowlatt Committee are printed below:—

"177. * * * * *

(a) We think, however, that no harm can be done by amending section 343 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (which prohibits promises or threats to induce an accused person to disclose or withhold any matter) so as to make it clear that there is no prohibition of a promise, whether to an accused or any other person, of protection against injury caused by the criminal acts of others. We do not think that this is really any alteration of the section at all. Such a promise as is referred to is only an assurance that he will get what he would be entitled to in any case. If it is an alteration, however, its advisability is too obvious for discussion.

(b) As regards changes specially relating to seditious crime, we recommend three permanent additions to the law.

In the first place we think that a permanent enactment on the lines of Rule 25 A under the Defence of India Act is required. That rule provides for the punishment of persons having prohibited documents (which may have to be defined anew) in their possession or control with (as we read the effect of the words used) intent to publish or circulate them. In its present form, however, the substance of the offence is confounded with the presumptive evidence of it. The drafting should, in our judgment, be recast, and the penalty seems too high for times of peace, seeing that the offence is merely possession with an intent not yet acted upon.

We also recommend that the principle of section 565 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (which provides for an order requiring notification of residence after release in the cases of persons convicted a second time for certain offences) should be extended to all persons convicted of offences under Chapter VI of the Penal Code (offences against the State) whether previously convicted or not. Such persons might be ordered to give security for a period not exceeding two years for good behaviour so far as offences under Chapter VI are concerned, and in default be directed to notify their residence to Government, who should have power to restrict their movements for the period of two years after their release and prohibit them from addressing public meetings,—the term "public meetings" including in its scope political subjects as in section 4 of the Prevention of Seditious Meetings Act of 1907.

Lastly we think that in all cases where there is a question of seditious intent, evidence of previous conviction for seditious crime or association (of an incriminating kind of course) with persons so convicted should be admissible upon written notice to the accused with such particulars and at such a time before the evidence is given as might be fair. What we have called seditious crime would of course have to be accurately defined." *

"186. * * * * *

In all these cases the District Magistrate should be empowered to order investigation. We are informed that this will be the result of clause 37 of the Amendment to the Criminal Procedure Code Bill now under consideration. If the above mentioned amendment is not enacted, machinery ought, we think, to be devised for giving such power by special order or otherwise in the cases with which we are immediately concerned. It has been suggested to us that the power should extend to Superintendents or even Inspectors of Police, but we cannot endorse this."

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Delhi, the 16th January, 1919.

No. 14.—The Governor General has been pleased, under Rule 23 of the Rules for the Conduct of the Legislative Business of the Council of the Governor General, to order the publication in the Gazette of India and in the local official Gazettes in English, of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, and the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information :—

BILL No. 2 OF 1919.

A Bill to make provision in special circumstances to supplement the ordinary criminal law, and for the exercise of emergency powers by Government.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make provision that, in special circumstances, the ordinary criminal law should be supplemented and emergency powers should be exercisable by the Government;

And whereas the previous approval of the Secretary of State in Council has been accorded to the making of this law; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Criminal Law (Emergency Powers) Act, 191 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

Definitions.

2. (1) In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

"Chief Justice" means the Judge of highest rank in a High Court;

"The Code" means the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898;

"High Court" means the highest Court of criminal appeal or revision for any local area;

"Offence against the State" means any offence under Chapter VI of the Indian Penal Code, and any attempt or conspiracy to commit, or any abetment of, any such offence; and

"Scheduled offence" means any offence specified in the Schedule.

(2) All words and expressions used in this Act and defined in the Code, and not hereinbefore defined, shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them in the Code.

PART I.

Condition of application of Part I.

3. If the Governor General in Council is satisfied that scheduled offences are prevalent in the whole or any part of British India, and that it is expedient in the interests of the public safety to provide for the speedy trial of such offences, he may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make a declaration to that effect, and thereupon the provisions of this Part shall come into force in the area specified in the notification.

Initiation of proceedings.

4. (1) Where the Local Government is of opinion that the trial of any person accused of a scheduled offence should be held in accordance with the provisions of this Part, it may order any officer of Government to prefer a written information to the Chief Justice against such person.

(2) No order under sub-section (1) shall be made in respect of, or be deemed to include, any person who has been committed under the Code for trial before a High Court, but, save as aforesaid, an order under that sub-section may be made in respect of any scheduled offence whether such offence was committed before or after the issue of the notification under section 3.

(3) The information shall state the offence charged and so far as known the name, place of residence, and occupation of the accused, and the time and place when and where the offence is alleged to have been committed and such other facts within the knowledge of the prosecution as shall be reasonably sufficient to enable the accused to meet the accusation.

(4) The Chief Justice may by order require any information to be amended so as to supply further particulars of the offence charged to the accused, and shall direct a copy of the information or the amended information, as the case may be, to be served upon the accused in such manner as the Chief Justice may direct.

Constitution of Court.

5. Upon such service being effected, and on application duly made to him, the Chief Justice shall nominate three of the High Court Judges (hereinafter referred to as the Court) for the trial of the information and shall fix a date for the commencement of the trial:

Provided that, when the total number of Judges of the High Court does not exceed three, the Chief Justice shall nominate not more than two such Judges, and shall complete the Court by the nomination of one or, if necessary, two persons of either of the following classes, namely:—

(a) persons who have served as permanent Judges of the High Court; or

(b) with the consent of the Chief Justice of another High Court, persons who are Judges of that High Court.

Place of sitting.

6. The Court may sit for the whole or any part of a trial at such place or places in the province as it may consider desirable:

Provided that the Governor General in Council, if he is satisfied that such a course is expedient in the interests of justice, may, by notification in the Gazette of India, direct that the Court shall sit for the whole or any part of a trial at such place or places as he may specify in the notification.

Application of Code of Criminal Procedure subject to this Part.

7. The provisions of the Code shall apply to proceedings under this Part, in so far as they are not inconsistent with the provisions therein contained, and such proceedings shall be deemed to be proceedings under the Code, and the Court shall have all the powers conferred by the Code on a Court of Session exercising original jurisdiction.

Trial.

8. The trial shall be commenced by the reading of the information, and thereafter the Court shall, subject to the provisions of this Part, in trying the accused, follow the procedure prescribed by the Code for the trial of warrant cases by Magistrates.

Adjournment after charge.

9. If a charge is framed, the accused shall be entitled to ask for an adjournment for ten days, or any less period that he may specify, and the Court shall comply with his request.

Record of evidence.

10. The Court shall be required to make a memorandum only of the substance of the evidence of each witness examined and, subject to the adjournment provided for by section 9, shall not be bound to adjourn any trial for any purpose, unless such adjournment is in its opinion necessary in the interests of justice.

Prohibition or restriction of publication of reports of trial.

11. The Court, if it is of opinion that such a course is necessary in the public interest or for the protection of a witness, may prohibit or restrict in such way as it may direct the publication or disclosure of its proceedings or any part of its proceedings.

Examination of accused.

12. (1) No questions shall be put by the Court to the accused in the course of a trial under this Part until the close of the case for the prosecution. Thereafter, and before the accused enters on his defence, the Court shall call upon him to state whether he intends to give evidence on oath or not, and shall at the same time inform him that if he does so, he will be liable to cross-examination. Unless the accused then states that he intends to give evidence on oath, the Court may at any time thereafter question the accused generally on the case in accordance with the provisions of section 342 of the Code.

(2) If when so called upon, the accused states that he intends to give evidence on oath, the Court shall not at any subsequent stage put any question to him:

Provided that if the accused does not so give evidence, then, after the witnesses for the defence have been examined, the Court may question the accused generally on the case in accordance with the provisions of the said section.

(3) If the accused gives evidence on oath, the following rules shall be observed in regard to his cross-examination, namely:—

(a) He may be asked any question in cross-examination notwithstanding that it would tend to criminate him as to the offence charged.

(b) He shall not be asked, and if asked shall not be required to answer, any question tending to show that he has committed or been convicted of, or has been charged with, any offence other than that with which he is then charged, or has a bad character, unless—

(i) proof that he has committed or been convicted of such other offence is admissible evidence to show that he is guilty of the offence with which he is then charged, or

(ii) witnesses for the prosecution have been cross-examined with a view to establish his own good character, or he has given evidence of his good character, or the nature or the conduct of the defence is such as to involve imputations on the character of the witnesses for the prosecution, or

(iii) he has given evidence against any other person charged with the same offence.

Right of reply.

13. If the accused or any one of the accused calls and examines any witness, the right of final reply shall lie with the prosecution, but in all other cases with the accused:

Provided that the examination of an accused as a witness shall not of itself confer the right of final reply on the prosecution.

Differences of opinion.

14. In the event of any difference of opinion between the members of the Court, the opinion of the majority shall prevail.

Conviction for non-scheduled offence.

15. If in any trial under this Part it is proved that the accused has committed any offence, whether a scheduled offence or not, the Court may convict the accused of that offence although he was not charged with it.

Sentence.

16. The Court may pass upon any person convicted by it any sentence authorised by law for the punishment of the offence of which such person is convicted, and no order of confirmation shall be necessary in the case of any sentence passed by it.

Exclusion of interference of other criminal Courts.

17. The judgment of the Court shall be final and conclusive and, notwithstanding the provisions of the Code or of any other law for the time being in force, or of anything having the force of law by whatsoever authority made or done, there shall be no appeal from any order or sentence of the Court, and no High Court shall have authority to revise any such order or sentence or to transfer any case from such Court, or to make any order under section 491 of the Code or have any jurisdiction of any kind in respect of any proceedings under this Part:

Provided that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the powers of the Governor General in Council or of the Local Government to make orders under section 401 or 402 of the Code in respect of any person sentenced by the Court.

Special rules of evidence.

18. (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the 72 Indian Evidence Act, 1872, where—

(a) the statement of any person has been recorded by a Magistrate, and such statement has been read over and explained to the person making it and has been signed by him, or

(b) the statement of any person has been recorded by the Court, but such person has not been cross-examined, such statement may be admitted in evidence by the Court if the person making the same is dead or cannot be found or is incapable of giving evidence, and the Court is of opinion that such death, disappearance or incapacity has been caused in the interests of the accused.

(2) Depositions recorded under section 512 of the Code may, in the circumstances specified in that section, be given in evidence at the trial under this Part of an accused.

Power to make rules.

19. The Chief Justice may from time to time make rules providing for—

(1) the appointment and powers of a President of the Court, and the procedure to be adopted in the event of any Judge of the Court being prevented from attending throughout the trial of an accused; and

(2) any matters which appear to him necessary for carrying into effect or supplementing the provisions of this Part preliminary or ancillary to trials.

PART II.

Condition of application of Part II.

20. If the Governor General in Council is satisfied that movements which are, in his opinion, likely to lead to the commission of offences against the State are being extensively promoted in the whole or any part of British India, he may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make a declaration to that effect, and thereupon the provisions of this Part shall come into force in the area specified in the notification.

Powers exercisable when Part II is in force.

21. (1) Where, in the opinion of the Local Government, there are reasonable grounds for believing that any person is or has been actively concerned in such area in any movement of the nature referred to in section 20, the Local Government may, by order in writing containing a declaration to that effect, give all or any of the following directions, namely: that such person—

(a) shall, within such period as may be specified in the order, execute a bond with or without sureties to be of good behaviour for such period not exceeding one year as may be so specified,

(b) shall notify his residence and any change of residence to such authority as may be so specified;

(c) shall remain or reside in any area in British India so specified, provided that, if the area so specified is outside the province, the concurrence of the Local Government of that area to the making of the order shall first have been obtained;

(d) shall abstain from any act so specified which, in the opinion of the Local Government, is calculated to disturb the public peace or is prejudicial to the public safety; and

(e) shall report himself to the police at such periods as may be so specified.

(2) Any order under clauses (b) to (e) may also be made to take effect upon default by the person concerned in complying with an order under clause (a).

Service of orders under section 21.

22. An order made under section 21 shall be served on the person in respect of whom it is made in the manner provided in the Code for service of summons, and upon such service such person shall be deemed to have due notice thereof.

Enforcement of orders.

23. The Local Government and every officer of Government to whom a copy of any order made under section 21 may be directed by, or under the general or special authority of, the Local Government, may use any and every means to enforce compliance with the same.

Interim nature of order made by Local Government.

24. An order made under section 21 shall only continue in force for a period of one month, unless it is extended by the Local Government as hereinafter provided in this Part.

Reference to investigating authority.

25. (1) When the Local Government makes an order under section 21, such Government shall, as soon as may be, forward to the investigating authority to be constituted under this Act a concise statement in writing setting forth plainly the grounds on which the Government considered it necessary that the order should be made, and shall lay before the investigating authority all material facts and circumstances in its possession in support of its action.

(2) The investigating authority shall then hold an inquiry in camera for the purpose of ascertaining what, in its opinion, having regard to the facts and circumstances adduced by the Government, appears against the person in respect of whom the order has been made. Such authority shall in every case allow the person in question a reasonable opportunity of appearing before it at some stage in its proceedings and shall, if he so appears, explain to him the nature of the charge made against him and shall hear any explanation he may have to offer, and may make such further investigation (if any) as appears to such authority to be relevant and reasonable :

Provided that the investigating authority shall not disclose to the person whose case is before it any fact the communication of which might endanger the public safety or the safety of any individual :

Provided further that nothing in this sub-section shall be deemed to entitle the person in question to appear or to be represented before the investigating authority by pleader, nor shall the Local Government be so entitled.

(3) Subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), the inquiry shall be conducted in such manner as the investigating authority considers best suited to elicit the facts of the case; and in making the inquiry, such authority shall not be bound to observe the rules of the law of evidence.

(4) On the completion of the inquiry, the investigating authority shall report in writing to the Local Government the conclusions at which it has arrived.

(5) If the investigating authority has not completed the inquiry within the period for which the duration of the order is limited by section 24, such authority may recommend to the Local Government that the period of duration of the order shall be extended for such period as it may consider necessary, and on such a recommendation, the Local Government may extend the duration of the order accordingly.

Disposal of report of investigating authority.

26. (1) On receipt of the report of the investigating authority, the Local Government may discharge the order made under section 21, or may pass any order which is authorised by the terms of that section :

Provided that—

(a) any order so passed shall recite the finding of the investigating authority ; and

(b) a copy of such order shall be furnished to the person in respect of whom it is made.

(2) No order made under sub-section (1) shall continue in force for more than one year from the date on which it was made, but the Local Government may, if it is satisfied that such a course is necessary in the interests of the public safety, on the expiry of any such order, again make any order in respect of the person to whom it related which is authorized by section 21.

(4) No order made under sub-section (2) shall continue in force for more than one year from the date on which it was made, but on its expiry may be renewed by the Local Government for a further period not exceeding one year :

Provided that any order so made or renewed may at any time be discharged, or may be altered by the substitution of any other order authorised by section 21, and in that case no further reference to the investigating authority shall be necessary.

Penalty for disobedience to order.

27. If any person fails to comply with, or attempts to evade, any order (other than an order to furnish security) made under the provisions of section 21 or section 26, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

Provisions as to bonds.

28. The provisions of section 514 of the Code shall apply to bonds executed under the provisions of this Part, with this modification that the powers conferred by that section on the Court shall be exercisable by any District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate, on application made on behalf of the Local Government.

Investigating authorities.

29. (1) The Local Government shall appoint one or more investigating authorities for the purposes of this Part.

(2) Every investigating authority shall be appointed by order in writing, and shall consist of three persons, of whom one shall be a person having held judicial office not inferior to that of a District and Sessions Judge, and one shall be a person not in the service of the Crown in India.

(3) The Local Government may by like order appoint persons to fill casual vacancies occurring by reason of death, resignation of office or otherwise on any investigating authority, but in so doing shall observe the provisions of sub-section (2).

Visiting Committees.

30. The Local Government shall by order in writing appoint such persons as it thinks fit to be Visiting Committees for the purposes of this Part, and shall by rules prescribe the functions which these Committees shall exercise :

Provided that, in making such rules, provision shall be made for periodical visits to persons under restraint under the provisions of this Part :

Provided further that a person in respect of whom an order has been made under section 21 or section 26 requiring him to abstain from any specified act or to report himself to the police shall not be deemed to be under restraint for the purposes of this section.

Power to make rules by Local Government.

31. (1) The Local Government may make rules providing for the procedure to be followed regarding the notification of residence and reports to the police by persons in respect of whom orders have been made under section 21 or section 26.

(2) All rules made under sub-section (1) shall be published in the local official Gazette, and on such publication shall have effect as if enacted in this Part.

PART III.

Condition of application of Part III.

32. If the Governor General in Council is satisfied that scheduled offences have been or are being committed in the whole or any part of British India to such an extent as to endanger the public safety, he may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make a declaration to that effect, and thereupon the provisions of this Part shall come into force in the area specified in the notification.

Powers exercisable when Part III is in force.

33. (1) Where, in the opinion of the Local Government, there are reasonable grounds for believing that any person has been or is concerned in such area in any scheduled offence, the Local Government may make in respect of such person any order authorised by section 21, and may further by order in writing direct—

(a) the arrest of any such person without warrant;

(b) the confinement of any such person in such place and under such conditions and restrictions as it may specify; and

(3) An order for confinement under clause (b) or for search under clause (c) of sub-section (1) may be carried out by any officer of Government to whom the order may be directed, and such officer may use any and every means to enforce the same.

Any person making an arrest in pursuance of an order under clause (a) of section 33 (1) shall forthwith report the fact to the Local Government and, pending receipt of the orders of the Local Government, may by order in writing commit any person so arrested to such custody as the Local Government may by general or special order specify in this behalf:

Provided that no person shall be detained in such custody for a period exceeding fifteen days.

Search.

35. An order for the search of any place issued under the provisions of clause (c) of section 33 (1) shall be deemed to be a search warrant issued by the District Magistrate having jurisdiction in the place specified therein, and shall be sufficient authority for the seizure of anything found in such place which the person executing the order has reason to believe is being used, or is likely to be used for any purpose prejudicial to the public safety, and the provisions of the Code, so far as they can be made applicable, shall apply to searches made under the authority of any such order and to the disposal of any property seized in any such search.

Application of Part II, procedure.

36. Where an order (other than an order for arrest or search) has been made under section 33, the provisions of sections 22 to 26 shall apply in the same way as if the order were an order made under section 21, save that, on receipt of the report of the investigating authority, the Local Government may, subject to the conditions prescribed by section 26, make any order which is authorized by section 33, and sections 22 to 26 and 28 to 31 shall be deemed to be included in this Part.

Penalty for disobedience to orders under this Part.

37. If any person fails to comply with, or attempts to evade, any order made under section 33 or section 36 other than an order to furnish security, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year, or with fine, or with both.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN December, 1917, the Governor General in Council, with the approval of the Secretary of State, appointed a Committee—

(1) to investigate and report on the nature and extent of the criminal conspiracies connected with the revolutionary movement in India;

(2) to examine and consider the difficulties that have arisen in dealing with such conspiracies, and to advise as to the legislation, if any, necessary to enable Government to deal effectively with them.

The Committee advisedly contained a strong judicial element, and was presided over by Sir Sidney Rowlatt, K.C.S.I., a judge of the King's Bench Division of His Majesty's High Court of Justice. This Committee submitted its report on the 15th April, 1918. The report was unanimous, and the Government of India have decided to introduce Bills to give effect to the recommendations of the Committee.

The present Bill gives effect to the recommendations contained in Chapter XVII of the Report in so far as they relate to Emergency measures (Punitive), Emergency measures (Preventive) and provision for existing danger. It is divided into five parts. Under the first three parts (i) the punitive measures, (ii) preventive measures of a mild character, (iii) preventive measures of a more stringent type, can each in turn be called into operation as recommended in paragraph 180 of the Report. Part IV makes provision for existing danger on the lines suggested in paragraph 196 of the Report, and Part V deals with certain miscellaneous matters.

The object has been to follow the recommendations of the Committee as closely as possible, and for facility of reference relevant extracts from the report are printed below:—

"180. Further, as we have said, the powers we suggest will be both Punitive and Preventive and the latter will be of two degrees varying in stringency. The scheme ought to be capable of being called into operation in compartments and it is worth considering whether the necessary notifications might not be required to declare a higher degree of public danger to justify the use of some powers than of others. We venture to lay some stress on the desirability from every point of view of the Government being able to take mild measures early. This is hampered if they are obliged, in order to take mild measures, to declare a state of affairs of great seriousness. On the other hand, they should not have authority to assume power to take stringent measures without pledging themselves to the declaration of a crisis of proportionate gravity. We have already intimated that we do not feel called upon to draft any form of notification but, to illustrate our suggestion of progressive notifications, if we may use that phrase, it might be sufficient, in order to call our punitive measures into force, to declare that seditious offences are prevalent and that it is expedient to provide for their speedy trial under the provisions of the Act, while for the invocation of the mild form of preventive measures it might be obligatory to declare that seditious movements were being extensively promoted, and for the more stringent preventive measures, that seditious outrage was occurring to a degree endangering public safety—or some such formulæ."

Emergency powers of different degrees.

"The notifications should of course be capable of application to particular provinces of smaller areas."

"181. Coming now to the measures themselves, we are of opinion that provision should be made for the trial of seditious crime by Benches of three Judges without juries or assessors and without preliminary commitment proceedings or appeal. In short, the procedure we recommend should follow the lines laid down in sections 5—9 inclusive of the Defence of India Act. It should be made clear that section 512 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (relating to the giving in evidence under certain circumstances of depositions taken in the absence of an absconding accused) applies to these trials, it having we understand, been questioned whether section 7 of the Defence of India Act has that effect."

Emergency provisions for trials.

"We think it necessary to exclude juries and assessors mainly because of the terrorism to which they are liable. But terrorism apart, we do not think they can be relied upon in this class of case. They are too much inclined to be affected by public discussion. We could give instances which have come before us, where we think there have been miscarriages of justice owing to the causes above mentioned. We may further point out that the trial of such cases without jury or assessors was introduced by the Indian Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1908."

"As regards the procedure and the absence of right of appeal, we think it essential that the delay involved in commitment proceedings and appeal be avoided. It is of the utmost importance that punishment or acquittal should be speedy both in order to secure the moral effect which punishment should produce and also to prevent the prolongation of the excitement which the proceedings may set up. Furthermore, the delays involved by commitment proceedings and the double examination of witnesses increase the chance of the witnesses being intimidated, add to the hardships involved in their attendance with the consequence of making them less ready to come forward, and also afford time for them to forget the facts."

"We think, however, that there is one important amendment to be made in the procedure. Under the temporary scheme now in operation charges are formulated after the evidence for the prosecution has been closed. In our opinion some expedient must be found for defining the issues and communicating them to the accused a reasonable time before he has to meet or rebut them. We do not apprehend how an accused can deal relevantly either in cross-examination or by preparation of evidence with a case not formulated."

"To meet this difficulty we suggest some such scheme as the following. It is a compromise between having no preliminary proceedings and the ordinary full commitment proceedings. We are told that some Special Tribunals have proceeded to some extent on these lines with satisfactory results. It seems quite fair to the accused :—

(a) Commitment proceedings to be abolished in these cases.

(b) Proceedings to start with a detailed written complaint to be drawn up by the Government Prosecutor setting out full particulars of what is intended to be proved against each accused.

(c) The prosecution witnesses to be first examined in chief, but the accused not to be called upon to cross-examine at this stage.

(d) The charge to be framed with regard to such of the accused against whom there is primâ facie evidence.

(e) The case should be adjourned and the Court should fix the period of adjournment suitable to each case, but such period should not be less than ten days.

(f) The accused to remain in the "custody of the Court" as opposed to the "custody of the police," or in other words, the Superintendent of the Jail should be under the directions of the Court so far as the accused are concerned. This does not indicate any real change, but perhaps an insertion of a provision of this nature will have the effect of silencing much mischievous criticism.

(g) The police papers will of course be placed before the Court. The Court after going through the papers may, if it thinks right, allow copies of some of these papers to the accused. Of course in this matter the Court will have absolute discretion, and the Court may refuse to allow copies of any of the police papers to the accused.

(h) At the expiry of the period of adjournment the cross-examination of the witnesses and the rest of the trial will proceed."

"182. While, however, we recommend in substance the procedure established under the Defence of India Act, we think the constitution of the tribunals as provided by these Acts should be altered. It seems to us inadvisable that these tribunals should to any extent be composed of persons not already members of the judiciary but selected by the executive for the purpose of the specific case. Nothing that we have seen suggests that the special tribunals hitherto appointed have been unfair towards the accused, but we think the objections in principle cannot be overlooked. Moreover, as the right of appeal is taken away, the tribunals should be of the highest strength and authority. They should be composed of High Court or Chief Court Judges selected by the head of the Court. It is true that this might mean a grave demand upon these Benches. But, after all, there is no judicial work so important as that with which we are dealing or so imperatively calling for a tribunal of the highest authority. Substitutes can be appointed for the Judges called away, and if there is no power it can be obtained. Substitutes, however, ought not to try these cases."

Composition of Courts.

"183. It has been brought to our attention that the bringing of witnesses to Calcutta or other seats of a High or Chief Court may be attended with inconvenience and may be a source of alarm and confusion to country witnesses. This must arise just as much if the witnesses are brought to such city to attend a special tribunal as at present constituted. If, on the other hand, the three gentlemen composing such tribunal can sit elsewhere than in such city, it seems to us that the three Judges can do so."

Place of trial.

"184. A question to which we have given much consideration is whether the accused should be entitled to give evidence on his own behalf in these cases, subject to the consequences now provided by the law of England. This has been found to afford valuable protection to an innocent prisoner, while exposing sham defences and unfounded suggestions."

Testimony of accused.

"The principle upon which an accused person cannot at present give evidence is that he is interested and interested persons were incompetent as witnesses by the Common Law in all cases, civil as well as criminal. This incompetency was gradually removed in England until the only remnant of the original rule was the case of a person under criminal trial. The incompetency in this case also was gradually removed as regards one crime after another until in 1898 * it was swept away in all cases by an Act of general application. The change was really the concession of a new facility to prisoners, though doubtless it had its inconveniences for persons really guilty. It was hedged about with important safeguards from the prisoner's point of view of which the following are the most notable:—

*61 and 62 Vict., c. 36.

(a) he cannot be called except with his own consent;

(b) if called, he cannot be asked questions as to his character, including previous convictions, unless either—

(i) the facts put would be evidence against him in chief, independently of the Act, as showing design or the like, or

(ii) he has given evidence of his own good character or the character of witnesses for the prosecution has been attacked on his behalf.

In other words, there is a special code limiting his examination, and if the principle were introduced in India, the application of sections inconsistent with it, such as section 165 of the Indian Evidence Act, would have to be excluded."

"This new principle, at first much mistrusted, has been found to work well in England; and in India where, as is so frequently the case, the grave issue arises whether a confession has been improperly extorted, it would seem much more conducive to the discovery of the truth that the accused should be entitled to depose on oath to what has occurred subject to cross-examination than that it should be left to suggestion. And so also as to other issues."

"No doubt only an experienced Court should try cases under these conditions in order to make sure that an ignorant prisoner does not misunderstand his position, and is not unfairly dealt with. This safeguard is ensured when the cases come before three Judges of the highest rank, and upon the whole we think the provision should be introduced. If it were a question of its general application we should, having regard to the abovementioned considerations, be against it."

"A suggestion made to us that the Court should be at liberty to put any question it pleases to an accused, even though he does not tender himself as a witness, is one that we cannot approve of."

"185. If our proposal is accepted that there shall be no commitment proceedings, the re-enactment or retention of section 13 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act (XIV of 1908) in its present form will not be appropriate. It is, however, necessary that the object which that section was intended to attain, namely, the protection of important witnesses and the perpetuation of their testimony, should be provided for. We think the statements of dead or absent witnesses made at either of two stages of the investigation should be made available for use by the Court, namely, (1) statements proved to have been made to a police officer not below the rank of Superintendent, where such statements have been recorded by such officer and read over and explained to the person making it and signed by him; (2) statements of witnesses made at the trial and not yet cross-examined upon—the condition making them admissible being in each case the same, namely, the belief of the Court that the death or absence of the deponent has been caused in the interests of the accused."

Perpetuation of testimony in particular circumstances.

"186. The Court should have the power, where and so far as they think it advisable in the public interests or for the safety of a witness, to exclude the public or any person from the hearing or any part of it and to prohibit any disclosure of their proceedings or any part of them either wholly or save as authorised by the tribunal, any such disclosure or purported disclosure being dealt with as a contempt of Court. This should not be done as a matter of course, but only where the tribunal is satisfied as to the necessity of it."

Other suggestions.

* * * * * *

"The cases to be tried subject to the provisions above sketched out will be such as are ordered to be so tried by Government, the power to make such orders being limited to certain classes of offences to be named in a schedule. This was the scheme of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1908, the schedule to which might be adopted."

* * * * *

"188. The powers at present temporarily possessed by the Government are so far as material for the present purpose to be found in rules 3—7 inclusive and 12-A under the Defence of India Act, 1915. We do not refer for the present to the Foreigners Ordinance, 1914, or the Ingress into India Ordinance, 1914. * * * Shortly stated, their effect is to give power to require persons by executive order to remain in any area to be specified or not to enter or remain in any such area, with penalties for breach of such requirement. These orders may be made and served on the person affected, whereupon they become binding upon him, or the person may be arrested without warrant and detained for a period not exceeding in all one month, pending an order of restriction. There is also a power of search under search warrant. It will be observed there is no provision for an examination of the cases of such persons. The decision lies solely with the Local Government. There is also the power of confinement under Regulation III of 1818."

Existing temporary powers.

"189. We think that provision ought to be made for calling into operation (in the last resort and subject to safeguards) powers going to the full extent of those above quoted."

Scope of our proposals.

"But while we feel bound to formulate such a scheme, we think that the whole of it must be subject to the observance of four main principles—

(i) No interference with liberty must be penal in character. Nothing in the nature of conviction can be admitted without trial in strict legal form. If in the supreme interests of the community the liberty of individuals is taken away, an asylum must be provided of a different order from a jail.

(ii) Any interference with liberty must be safeguarded by an inquiry which, though circumstances exclude the possibility of its following forensic forms, must be judicial in the sense that it must be fair and impartial and as adequate as it can be made.

(iii) Every order (which should be made by the Local Government) authorising such interference must recite the holding of such inquiry and declare that, in the opinion of the Local Government, the measures ordered are necessary in the interests of public security.

(iv) The order must be made for a limited time only (say, not exceeding a year) and must be renewable only by a new order (not necessarily a new inquiry) reciting that the renewal is necessary in the interests of public security."

"190. We now proceed to elaborate, but without using drafting language or going into every detail, the scheme we suggest"

Two grades of powers desirable.

"We think, as we have already indicated, that the powers to be acquired should be of two grades capable of being called into operation separately, possibly under different forms of notification."

"The first group of powers should be of the following nature:—

(i) to demand security with or without sureties;

(ii) to restrict residence or to require notification of change of residence;

(iii) to require abstention from certain acts, such as engaging in journalism, distributing leaflets or attending meetings;

(iv) to require that the person should periodically report to the police

The second group of powers should be—

(i) to arrest;

(ii) to search under warrant;

(iii) to confine in non-penal custody."

"It is not conceivable that the second group of powers would be called into play without the first. Therefore after arrest and search there would be no objection (if thought sufficient) to making an order under the first group of powers."

"191. An 'investigating authority' or 'authorities' should be constituted, as to which we shall say more later on."

Creation of an investigating authority.

"If the first group of powers only is in force, the Government before making a final order should be required to refer the case to the investigating authority. They should, however, have power to make an interim order for a limited time. If the second group is in force, the person might be arrested and kept in custody for a time to be limited before the reference and thereafter pending the reference."

"The duty of the investigating authority will be to inquire in camera upon any materials which they may think fit and without being bound by rules of evidence. They would send for the person and tell him what is alleged against him and investigate the matter as fairly and adequately as possible in the manner of a domestic tribunal It would not be necessary to disclose the sources of information, if that would be objectionable from the point of view of other persons. No advocates would be allowed on either side or witnesses formally examined, nor need the person whose case is under investigation be present during all the inquiry. Should such person indicate that other persons or any other inquiries may throw light on the matter from his point of view, the investigating authority would endeavour to test the suggestion if it seems relevant and reasonable. At the close of the inquiry the investigating authority would certify their conclusion to the Local Government."

"It will be noticed that though we have suggested the procedure to be followed by the investigating authority, we have not yet indicated our view as to what it should inquire into or the nature of its conclusions.

"192. This seems to us the most difficult of all the matters with which we have had to deal, and yet it is one as to which exactness is imperative. We think what is to be aimed at is that the order of restriction or the like should be executive, but on a basis of fact ascertained judicially (in the sense explained) by the investigating authority. If the investigating authority are to deal with the question of the order to be made, they acquire power without the responsibility for the results. The executive are responsible for the maintenance of law and order. The worst solution of all is that the investigating authority should recommend and that the executive should be able to disregard the recommendation. If, however, the investigating authority is to confine itself to facts, what is the question of fact to be? The states of fact contemplated cannot be reduced to definitions like crimes, such as murder and so on. If they could, no list that we can contemplate would cover the ground. Under these circumstances we suggest the following solution Let the Government propound to the Committee in plain language what they suggest the man has done or is doing or is likely to do, and let the authority return in plain language what they find upon the subject. Then let the Government recite that finding in its order and proceed to deal with the man as it thinks necessary. The great object will thus be attained of making it known exactly what is ascertained against the man in fact apart from executive conclusion, but the responsibility for action will still rest solely on the Government. It is for consideration whether the order should not be published."

Scope of investigation.

"The nature of the above suggestion explains why we have used the term "Investigating Authority" instead of "Advisory Committee". The use of the latter term seems to condemn one in advance to the embarrassments from which it is the whole object to escape."

"193. If the functions of the investigating authority are such as we have described, the difficulty of its composition is minimised. For an inquiry in a judicial spirit into facts knowledge and experience are the requisites. It has been suggested to us that the judicial, the executive and the non-official elements should be represented upon the body or bodies in question. Having indicated the functions which we recommend for the investigating authority, we do not feel that we are driven to give our views as to its exact composition. But we think we may say as based upon the experience gained in the course of our labours that one member should be a non-official Indian selected for his knowledge of the people."

Composition of the authority.

"194. We suggest one more provision to be made in this scheme of preventive measures. We think there should be Visiting Committees to report upon the condition of persons restricted in residence or in custody. We do not go into the question of the composition of these Committees. This may well vary in different parts of India and possibly in different parts of the same province or with reference to different communities. We were much struck by the useful work of this kind that can be done by Committees, working in very small areas, in the Punjab. Machinery so satisfactory may not be possible elsewhere. The Committees appointed must, of course, be persons who are prepared to accept the scheme and work it effectually though sympathetically."

Visiting Committees.

* * * * * *

"196. The scheme above set forth is, as has already been pointed out, designed for emergencies regarded as contingent. The powers involved are, therefore, to be dormant till the event occurs."

Treatment of existing offenders.

"There are, however, a limited class of persons, namely, those who have been involved in the troubles which have been described who constitute a danger not contingent but actual. Special and immediate provision is required for their case."

* * * * * *

"It seems to us that the simplest device is to provide that in respect of acts committed before the Defence of India Act expires (or an earlier date if preferred) and danger apprehended by reason of such acts in the future it should be lawful to proceed against any person under any of the provisions which we have outlined without any notification. In other words, the new law is to be deemed to be operative for that purpose immediately."

NOTE 1. Where a person or firm mentioned in the List has more than one address in the country or group of countries under which the name of the person or firm appears all dealings in that country, or in any country in the group with such person or firm are prohibited, even in cases where one only of the addresses, or one only of the countries, is specifically mentioned.

NOTE 2. Trading is prohibited under the Trading with the Enemy Proclamations of 25 June, and 10 November, 1915 (which were republished by the Government of India as notifications in the Commerce and Industry Department, Nos. 12221-W. and 861-W., dated respectively the 24th July and 11th December, 1915), with any person or firm of enemy nationality resident or carrying on business in China, Siam, Persia, Morocco, Siberia or Portuguese East Africa. Persons or firms are, therefore, prohibited from trading with any person or firm of enemy nationality in any of those countries, even though such person or firm is not mentioned by name in the above Schedule.

NOTE 3. It is not unusual for firms in Holland and the Netherland East Indies to be registered under names commencing with descriptive terms such as "Handel Maatschappy" (Trading Company) or "Naamlooze Venootschap" (Limited Liability Company). In such cases it has been found more convenient to publish the firm under its proper name followed by the general descriptive term "Handel Maatschappy" or "Naamlooze Venootschap" (N.V.) as in the case of an English company. For instance, Handel Maatschappy van den Berg & Company, and Naamlooze Venootschap de Komeet v/h Dumonceau Frères will be found under "Berg" and "Komeet" respectively, and not under "Handel" or "Naamlooze."

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the following Awards to the undermentioned Officers and Warrant Officers, in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field :—

* * * * *

BAR TO MILITARY CROSS.

* * * * *

Capt. Thomas William Corbett, M.C., Indian Cav.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He led a very successful raid on enemy trenches, causing the enemy heavy casualties in killed and wounded. He showed high qualities of organization, courage, and leadership, and it was largely due to his fine example that the raid against greatly superior numbers was successful.

(M. C. gazetted 3rd June, 1918.)

* * * * *

AWARDED THE MILITARY CROSS.

* * * * *

Ressaidar Bur Singh, Ind. Cav.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in a raid on the enemy's trenches. He led his troop with the greatest courage and determination against a post containing over seventy of the enemy under heavy machine gun and rifle fire at point-blank range. His troop killed and wounded a large number of the enemy.

* * * * *

Lt. Percy Seamander Clarke, I. A. R. O.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. By personal reconnaissance under heavy fire he discovered the enemy machine-gun positions, and by directing one machine-gun section he caused three of the enemy machine-guns to retire. He did fine work.

* * * * *

Lt. John Cuthbert Coates, Gurkha Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy counter-attack. He held on to his position until reinforcements arrived, when he counter-attacked with success, driving back greatly superior numbers of the enemy with the bayonet. He set a very fine example of coolness and determination to his men.

* * * * *

Lt. Arthur Edward Cumming, Vaughan's Rifles, I. A.

For conspicuous gallantry and skilful leadership in an attack on a redoubt. He led the advance party round the rear of the redoubt, and engaged the retreating enemy in a hand-to-hand fight, which resulted in half of them being killed or captured. Later, when the enemy counter-attacked, he seized a Lewis gun and under heavy enemy barrage engaged them in the open. His fine example of courage greatly encouraged his men, who drove back the counter-attack with loss.

* * * * *

Capt. Claude Ernest Torin Erskine, Corps of Guides.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an attack. He repeatedly went forward from battalion headquarters under intense artillery fire and took temporary command of two companies in the front line who were without an officer, and re-organised the line. The success of the operation was mainly due to his fine example of courage under most trying circumstances.

* * * * *

Lt. Lionel Douglas William Hearsey, I. A. R. O.

For conspicuous gallantry in the field. While reconnoitring an enemy position his patrol was fired on by the enemy, and one of his men's horses was killed. Lieutenant Hearsey picked up the man under heavy fire and brought him back on his own horse, thus saving his life.

* * * * *

2nd Lt. Rodney Stewart King, Ind. Cav.

When in charge of a patrol sent out to investigate operations of an enemy working party, protected by a covering party, he came under heavy rifle fire. He promptly charged the enemy and dispersed them, killing some and capturing two prisoners. He behaved most gallantly and showed great determination and resource in successfully carrying out his mission.

* * * * *

Jemadar Pola Khan, Grenadiers, I. A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when commanding a patrol of twelve other ranks. He encountered three of the enemy, who started to throw bombs. He rushed forward and seized hold of two, while his men captured the third. A strong enemy party of thirty, seeing what was going on, immediately charged, but were repulsed with loss. He then skilfully withdrew his patrol. He showed fine courage and leadership.

Though the above statement records an appreciable increase in plague mortality over the figures for the previous week the incidence of the disease is relatively insignificant for the time of year. The lowest plague mortality recorded in the month of January during the last twenty years was 7,689 in 1900. The plague mortality in January 1918 amounted to 129,736. At the present time Madras is more heavily infected than any other Indian province, an unusual state of affairs.

* * * * *

Ressaidar Badlu Singh, late 14th Lancers, attached 29th Lancers, Indian Army.

For most conspicuous bravery and self-sacrifice on the morning of the 23rd September, 1918, when his squadron charged a strong enemy position on the west bank of the River Jordan, between the river and Kh. es Samariveh Village.

On nearing the position Ressaidar Badlu Singh realised that the squadron was suffering casualties from a small hill on the left front occupied by machine guns and 200 infantry. Without the slightest hesitation he collected six other ranks and with the greatest dash and an entire disregard of danger charged and captured the position, thereby saving very heavy casualties to the squadron. He was mortally wounded on the very top of the hill when capturing one of the machine guns single-handed, but all the machine guns and infantry had surrendered to him before he died.

His valour and initiative were of the highest order.

No. 14.—The Government of India, with the approval of the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for India, are pleased to extend the following provisions of Order in Council dated 29th September 1917, to permanent and temporary Officers of the Royal Indian Marine :—

AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

The 29th day of September 1917.

PRESENT:

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

Whereas there was this day read at the Board a Memorial from Right Honourable John Hodge, Minister of Pensions, dated the 27th day of September 1917, in the words following, viz.:—

"Whereas by section 3 of the Naval and Marine Pay and Pensions Act, 1865, it is enacted, inter alia, that all pay, wages, pensions, bounty money, grants, or other allowances in the nature thereof, payable in respect of services in Your Majesty's Naval or Marine Force to a person being or having been an officer, seaman, or marine, or to the widow or any relative of a deceased officer, seaman, or marine, shall be paid in such manner and subject to such restrictions, conditions, and provisions as are from time to time directed by Order in Council.

And whereas under section 2, sub-section (1), of the Ministry of Pensions Act, 1916, it is enacted, inter alia, that there shall be transferred to the Ministry of Pensions the powers and duties of the Admiralty with respect to pensions and grants to persons who have served as officers or men and to their widows, children, and other dependants, and to persons who have served in the nursing service of any of Your Majesty's Forces, other than service pensions, so far as such pensions and grants are payable out of moneys provided by Paliament and not proivded exclusively for the purpose of Greenwich Hospital, and that Your Majesty may by Your Order in Council make such adaptations in the enactments relating to such powers and duties as aforesaid as may be necessary to make them exerciseable by the Minister of Pensions and his officers, and may fix the time or times as from which the several powers and duties are to be transferred to him:

And whereas I am of the opinion that it is desirable in certain respects to amend the Regulations relating to pensions and grants which may be awarded to Commissioned and subordinate officers of Your Majesty's Naval, Coast Guard, Marine and Reserve Forces, disabled in consequence of service during the present war, and to the widows, children and other relatives of such officers, and to members of Your Majesty's nursing services hereinafter specified.

I beg leave humbly to recommend that Your Majesty may be graciously pleased by Your Order in Council to sanction the grant of pensions, allowances and gratuities to the persons above referred to on the scales and subject to the conditions prescribed in the Regulations annexed hereto, with effect as regards pensions and allowances from 1st April 1917, without prejudice, however, to the validity of anything which may have been done by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty under Your Majesty's previous Orders in Council relating to grants to such persons; and further to enable me to make grants under the said previous Orders in respect of any claims which have arisen out of the present war before the above-mentioned date and to revise such grants with effect from that date and further to enable me to apply the provision of article 1 (4) of the Regulations annexed hereto, relating to disabled officers in receipt of wound gratuities or pensions, with effect from the 1st March 1915. Provided always that if more favourable to the officer or nurse, the pension, allowance, or gratuity payable under existing regulations shall be granted, and no grant to an officer or nurse, or to the family of an officer, shall be reassessed to their disadvantage; and provided further that any widow, child or dependant of an officer promoted from a rank or rating below that of commissioned warrant officer during the war shall not be less favourably treated than if he had continued to serve in that lower rank.

The Lords Commissioners of Your Majesty's Treasury have signified their concurrence in these proposals.

REGULATIONS.

PART I.

OFFICERS DISABLED.

1. (1) An officer who retires, relinquishes his commission, or reverts to the Reserve or Emergency List on account of medical unfitness certified as either attributable to or aggravated by naval or military service in consequence of the present war, and not being due to his serious negligence or misconduct, may be granted the retired pay shown in the First Schedule to these Regulations which corresponds to the degree of his disablement as certified.

(2) If the officer holds a permanent commission in the Royal Navy or Royal Marines, he may be allowed to retain or receive either (a) the retired pay or gratuity which has been awarded to him, or for which he is eligible in respect of his service, or, if he is not so eligible, the half pay which is proper to his rank and service, with an addition as in the last column of the First Schedule to these Regulations, or (b) the retired pay which would have been awarded under that schedule to an officer holding only a temporary commission according to the degree of his disablement, whichever is more favourable.

(3) If a disabled officer is in receipt of a service pension as a seaman or marine and does not hold a permanent commission in the Royal Navy or Royal Marines, he may be granted either (a) that pension with an addition for his disability as in the last column of the First Schedule to these Regulations, or (b) the retired pay for which he is eligible under that schedule according to the degree of disablement, whichever is more favourable.

(4) If a disabled officer is in receipt of wounds gratuity or pension, he shall only be eligible for retired pay at a rate equal to his half pay or (if eligible therefor) his retired pay for service, unless that half pay or retired pay and the wounds gratuity or pension together amount to less than the retired pay to which he would be entitled under these regulations. In that case an amount equal to the deficiency may be added to his retired pay.

(5) An officer who has lost the sight of both eyes as the result of wounds received in action shall be granted not less than £300 a year in wounds pension and retired pay taken together.

(6) Subject to sub-sections (3) and (4) of this article if a disabled officer is already in receipt of pension as a seaman or marine or retired pay as an officer or warrant officer, it shall be suspended so long as he is receiving a higher rate under these Regulations.

(7) If an officer on or after general demobilisation, or after retirement, or relinquishing his commission, or transfer to or reversion to the Reserve or Emergency List, otherwise than for misconduct or at his own request, is certified to be disabled by wounds, injuries, or disease attributable to or aggravated by naval or military service in the present war, such disablement not having been caused or aggravated by his serious negligence or misconduct, he may be granted retired pay or gratuity as if he had retired as medically unfit for further service upon the date from which his claim is established.

2. (1) In cases of pecuniary need the Minister of Pensions may, at his discretion, grant to a disabled officer who is in receipt of retired pay under article 1 of these Regulations an education allowance not exceeding £50 a year in respect of each child above the age of 9.

The continuance of the allowance shall depend on the continuance of the retired pay, and on the Minister of Pension being satisfied as to the education the child is receiving. It shall not be granted to an officer receiving alternative retired pay under article 3.

(2) In any case in which, in the opinion of the Minister of Pensions, it may become necessary to secure the proper care of a child on behalf of whom an education allowance is payable, the allowance instead of being paid to the parent may be administered under such conditions as the Minister of Pensions may determine.

3. An officer who makes application and shows that the retired pay which he has been granted under the preceding articles of these Regulations, together with any wound gratuity or pension of which he is in receipt, together with the average earning (if any) of which he remains capable, are less than his pre-war earnings, may be granted temporarily or permanently in lieu of such retired pay, retired pay which, together with the wound gratuity or pension and the average earnings (if any) of which he is judged capable, shall not exceed his pre-war earnings up to a maximum of £300 a year, plus half any pre-war earnings between £300 and £600 a year.

4. (1) If an officer's disablement is not permanent, the grant of retired pay and allowances under the foregoing articles shall be temporary, and shall not be made permanent unless the permanency of the disablement is established.

(2) When an officer's retired pay has been made permanent, it shall not be altered on account of any change in his earning capacity, whether resulting from training or other cause, neither shall it be subject to review except :—

(a) When an officer whose retired pay is assessed under Article 1 of these Regulations claims that there has been a substantial increase in the extent of the disablement due to the original cause.

(b) When an officer, whose retired pay is assessed under Articles 1 and 2 of these Regulations, shows that it would be more advantageous to him to be assessed under Article 3.

5. Half the retired pay awarded under the preceding articles may be subject to the condition that the disabled officer shall undergo medical treatment in a sanatorium, hospital convalescent home or otherwise, for any period during which it is certified that such treatment is necessary in his interests.

6. An officer in receipt of retired pay under these Regulations may be granted in addition to that pay—

(a) the difference (if any) between that pay and retired pay at the rate for the highest degree of disablement for any period during which he is certified to require special medical treatment in a sanatorium, hospital, convalescent home or other institution, a deduction of such an amount and under such conditions as the Minister of Pensions may determine being made from the officer's retired pay on account of the cost of his maintenance in the institution ;

(b) actual necessary medical and other expenses incidental to treatment in respect of the disability for which he was retired up to such amount and subject to such conditions as the Minister of Pensions may determine ;

(c) if disabled in the highest degree, an allowance not exceeding £78 a year in any case where the constant attendance of a second person is necessary.

7. An officer in receipt of retired pay under these Regulations may be granted in addition to that pay—

(a) the difference, if any, between that pay and retired pay at the rate for the highest degree of disablement for any period during which he is prevented from earning his living by undergoing training in a technical institution or otherwise which in the opinion of the Minister of Pensions would benefit him ;

(b) an allowance to cover fees in respect of training up to such amount and subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine.

8. In any case where the degree of disablement is assessed at less than 20 per cent. or where it is considered by the Minister of Pensions more in the interest of the officer, a gratuity or temporary allowance may be granted in place of any retired pay under these Regulations. The grant will be subject to such conditions as the Minister may determine and its amount will not exceed £500 and will depend on the nature of the disablement and other circumstances of the case.

9. An officer retired as medically unfit for service, such unfitness being neither attributable to not aggravated by naval or military service, and not being due to the serious negligence or misconduct of the officer, may be granted a gratuity or temporary allowance. The grant will be subject to such conditions as the Minister of Pensions may determine. In exceptional circumstances it may amount to a sum not exceeding £300 and generally it will depend on the extent to which the officer is incapacitated and on the other circumstances of the case.

PART II.

WIDOWS AND OTHER RELATIVES OF OFFICERS DECEASED.

10. Pensions and gratuities to the widows, children and relatives of deceased officers for which provision is made in the following articles, shall not be claimed as a right, but shall be given as a reward of the officer's services, and no pension or gratuity shall be granted or continued to a widow or relative who, in the opinion of the Minister of Pensions is unworthy of the public bounty, and it shall be in the power of the Minister of Pensions to terminate or suspend any pension that may have been granted to such persons or to provide for its administration under such conditions as he may determine and his decision shall in any case be final.

11. (1) The widow of an officer, including an officer of the Royal Marines employed on board His Majesty's Ships may be granted a pension as in the second column of the Second Schedule to these Regulations if the officer (a) is killed in action, whether afloat or ashore, or suffers violent death due directly and wholly to war service, or is killed or dies of injuries sustained on flying duty or while being carried on duty in aircraft under proper authority or is drowned while on duty, or whose death results from destruction of ship, or who dies within seven years from wounds or injuries so received, or (b) dies from disease certified as caused by extraordinary exposure or exertion on service within seven years after having been first removed from duty on account of such disease, or (c) dies in consequence of injuries received in the performance of duty otherwise than under (a) within seven years after having been so injured.

(2) The widow of an officer of the Royal Marines on shore strength may be granted a pension as in the second column of the Second Schedule to these Regulations if the officer (a) is killed in action, or suffers violent death due directly and wholly to war service, or is killed or dies of injuries sustained on flying duty or while being carried on duty in aircraft under proper authority, or dies within seven years from wounds or injuries so received or (b) dies from illness which is certified as directly traceable to fatigue, privation, or exposure incident to active operations in the field within seven years after having been first removed from duty on account of such illness, or (c) dies in consequence of injuries received in the performance of military duty otherwise than under (a) within seven years after having been so injured.

(3) The widow of an officer, including an officer of the Royal Marines, may be granted a pension as in the third column of the Second Schedule if the officer (a) dies of disease attributable to or aggravated by naval or military service other than as under sub-sections (1) (b) or (2) (b) within seven years after having been first removed from duty on account of such disease, or (b) dies of injuries attributable to naval or military service other than under sub-sections (1) (a) or (c) or (2) (a) or (c) of this article, and not through his own serious negligence or misconduct, within seven years after having been first removed from duty on account of such injuries.

(4). The widow of an officer who dies in the circumstances referred to in sub-section (1) (a) or (2) (a) of this article may be granted a gratuity in addition to pension as in the fourth column of the Second Schedule to these Regulations; provided that, where it would be more favourable to her, the amount of the gratuity shall be equal to a year's full pay of the rank which the officer held on the 31st March 1917, and for this purpose officer's command money and other full-pay allowances, except Table Money and Field Allowance, shall be included.

12. (1) The widow of an officer awarded a pension under Article 11 (1) or (2) of these Regulations may be granted a further allowance as in the fifth column of the Second Schedule to these Regulations, and a widow awarded a pension under Article 11 (3) a further allowance as in the sixth column of that schedule for each child maintained by her.

These allowances may be granted or continued up to the age of 18 in the case of sons and up to the age of 21 in the case of daughters, unless the child is otherwise provided for or marries, and may be granted or further continued after the age of 18 in the case of a son who is an apprentice receiving not more than nominal wages, or is being educated at a secondary school, technical institute, or university.

(2) The above allowances may also be granted or continued after the specified ages in very special cases in which it is shown that (a) the children became afflicted during the officer's life-time with some mental or bodily infirmity rendering them dependant upon him, and incapable of making adequate exertion for their own support; (b) that such incapacity dates from a period before the children reached the limit of age; and (c) that they are in distressed circumstances. The allowances may be granted or continued for such term as the Minister of Pensions may decide.

(3) A gratuity of one-third of the amount laid down in Article 11 (4) may be granted in addition to children's allowance for each child if the officer dies in the circumstances referred to in Article 11 (1) (a) or (2) (a).

(4) The widow of an officer awarded a pension under Article 11 may, if in pecuniary need, be granted at the discretion of the Minister of Pensions an education allowance not exceeding £35 a year for each child above the age of 9. The continuance of the allowance shall depend on the Minister being satisfied as to the education the child is receiving. It shall not be granted to a widow receiving an alternative pension under Article 13.

(5) In any case in which, in the opinion of the Minister of Pensions, it may become necessary to secure the proper care of a child on behalf of whom allowances are payable, the allowances, instead of being paid to the widow, may be administered under such conditions as the Minister of Pensions may determine.

13. A widow pensioned under the conditions set forth in Article 11 of these Regulations, who makes application and shows that she was married to the officer before the commencement of the war or of his service, whichever was the later, and that her pension together with children's allowances (if any) which she has been granted under the two preceding articles is less than one-half the alternative retired pay that might have been awarded to the deceased officer under Article 3 had he survived and been incapable of supplementing that retired pay by earnings, may be granted, in lieu of such pension and children's allowances, a pension which shall not exceed one-half of such officer's alternative retired pay.

14. The widow of an officer not eligible for pension under Article 11 may be granted a gratuity of not less than one and not more than three years' pay of the appointment held by the officer provided that:—

(a) the officer dies while on full pay, or during the war after removal from full pay from the injury or disease for which he was removed from full pay or some closely connected disease, and there is a continuous medical history of sickness; and

(b) the widow is disqualified only through the insufficiency of the officer's service for an ordinary pension under the terms of the King's Regulations and Admiralty Instructions.

The amount of the gratuity within the above limits shall be at the discretion of the Minister of Pensions, and may be paid in a lump sum or in instalments as he may determine. In the event of the officer leaving motherless children, a similar grant may be made to them under such conditions as the Minister of Pensions may determine.

15. Any pension granted to the widow of an officer under these Regulations shall cease on her re-marriage; but in the event of her again becoming a widow, her pension may be restored, if she is otherwise qualified, and if in the opinion of the Minister of Pensions her pecuniary circumstances are such as to justify the restoration. Allowances for children under Article 12 may be paid after re-marriage.

16. A widow of an officer who was at the time of his death in receipt of retired pay in consequence of disablement of not less than £70 a year, but whose death does not render her eligible for a pension under Article 11 of these Regulations may, provided she was living with the officer at the time of his death, receive a pension of not more than one-half the deceased officer's retired pay on account of his disablement, and in no case at a higher rate than provided for under sub-section (3) of that article, this grant to be subject to such conditions as the Minister of Pensions may determine and to cease on re-marriage.

17. (1) The child of an officer who has died in the circumstances set forth in article 11 of these Regulations may be awarded a pension or £40 a year, where the child is or becomes motherless, or is not or ceases to be under the control of its mother. In the event of two or more children being maintained by one person, the amount will be reduced to £35 for each of the children after the first.

(2) The grant, continuance, and administration of the pension shall be subject to the same conditions as those set forth for children's allowances in Article 12 (1), (2), and (5).

(3) A child granted a pension under sub-section (1) of this Article shall be eligible for a gratuity under the conditions of Article 12 (3), and for an education allowance under the conditions laid down in Article 12 (4).

(4) If the officer met his death in the circumstances of Article 11 (1) (a) or (2) (a) and did not leave a widow but daughter or daughters only, an annual allowance equal to the ordinary rate of widow's pension as laid down in the King's Regulations and Admiralty Instructions, may be granted to the daughter or daughters collectively instead of the pension under sub-section (1) above. This allowance may be continued until the daughter, or the last surviving daughter, becomes disqualified by marriage.

18. The following conditions shall apply to the grant of continuance of pensions to the relatives, other than widows and children of deceased officers under Articles 19 and 21 below:—

(1) It shall be granted only if the officer dies in the circumstances set forth in Articles 11 (1) (2) or (3) of these Regulations.

(3) It shall be granted or continued only if the pecuniary or other circumstances of the relatives are such as in the opinion of the Minister of Pensions to justify the award.

(3) It shall not, together with any other pension or similar provision from public funds exceed the pension which has been or would have been awarded to the officer's widow under Article 11 (1), (2) or (3) and the Second Schedule to these Regulations.

(4) It shall not be transferable, except that where it is granted jointly to parents, or to two or more sisters or brothers, it may be continued, wholly or in part, to the survivors.

(5) It shall cease on marriage or re-marriage.

19. (1) A pension may be granted to the parent or parents of an officer of such an amount as the Minister of Pensions may decide, subject to the conditions of article 18 and such other conditions as he may determine, regard being had to pre-war dependence, if any, and to the age or infirmity of the parent or parents.

(2) A pension, under the same conditions, may be granted in respect of each son who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11, subject to the limit laid down in Article 18 (3).

20. A gratuity not exceeding the value of one year's widow's pension may be granted to the parent or parents jointly of an officer, at the discretion of the Minister of Pensions in special cases where the conditions for pensions laid down in the two preceding articles are not fulfilled.

21. (1) A pension may be granted to the sister or brother (or sisters or brothers) of an officer, provided they were wholly or partially dependent on him for support. The pension shall be of such an amount as the Minister of Pensions may decide, subject to the conditions of Article 18 and such other conditions as he may determine, and shall not be granted or continued to a brother after the age of 18, or to a sister after the age of 21, unless he or she is unfitted by age or infirmity to earn his or her living.

(2) A pension under the same conditions may be granted in respect of each brother who has died in the circumstances set forth in Article 11, subject to the limit laid down in Article 18 (3).

22. A gratuity not exceeding one-half the value of one year's widow's pension may at the discretion of the Minister of Pensions, be granted to the sisters or brothers jointly in special cases, where the conditions for pensions laid down in Articles 18 and 21 are not fulfilled.

(5) "The pre-war earnings" means the average earnings of an officer during the twelve months preceding the commencement of the war, or such lesser period as he was employed, and shall be computed generally in such manner as is best calculated to give the rate at which he was being remunerated, and, so far as may be applicable, in the same manner as for the purposes of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906.

In the case of a man in trade, business or profession, the average profits of the last three years preceding the commencement of the war shall be taken, or of such lesser period as he engaged therein.

(6) "Pre-war dependence" means the amount representing the annual value of the support afforded to, or of benefits conferred upon, a relative by an officer for a reasonable period immediately preceding the commencement of the war or of his service, if later, exclusive, however, of any increase thereof due to circumstances arising out of the war, in the case of entry into Service of commission subsequent to the commencement of the war and shall include the following:—

(b) Amount regularly contributed by the officer in excess of expenditure incurred on his account.

(2) Any existing regulations as to the relative rank which should govern the rate of retired pay for a disabled officer or pension for the widow or other relative of a deceased officer shall remain in force and be applicable to grants made under these Regulations.

32. Except as modified by these Regulations, any general conditions governing the grant, issue, and administration of retired pay to officers and of pensions to their families and to nurses laid down in Orders in Council and King's Regulations and Admiralty Instructions and other Regulations issued by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty shall remain in force and be applicable to grants made under these Regulations.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

RAILWAY DEPARTMENT.

(RAILWAY BOARD.)

NOTIFICATION.

Delhi, the 31st January 1919.

In exercise of the powers conferred by the Notification of the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry, No. 801, dated the 24th March 1905, and in pursuance of section 47, sub-section 3 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), as in force in British India, the Railway Board sanction the following rules made by the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta under sub-section (1), clauses (f) and (g) of the said section, for and to be applicable to the Calcutta Port Commissioners' Railway, situate in British India, for regulating the terms and conditions on which the Railway Administration will warehouse or retain goods at any station or depôt on the Calcutta Port Commissioners' Railway on behalf of the consignee or owner and for regulating the use of rolling stock, engines and trains on the said railway by the public.

THE CALCUTTA PORT COMMISSIONERS' RAILWAY.

I.—RULES FOR THE WAREHOUSING AND RETENTION OF GOODS.

Wharfage.

1. Wharfage should be calculated—

(1) where freight is levied on weight—upon such weight;

(2) where freight is levied on the vehicle in or on which the goods are carried—upon the carrying capacity of such vehicle.

Circumstances.	Time allowed free.	Commodities.*	Rate per maund or part of a maund per day or part of a day in excess of the free time.	REMARKS.
On goods for despatch waiting to be consigned, i.e., consignments brought to station, but consignment notes not received.	Closing time of the day.	For all goods ...	Up to 1 anna ...	Goods will in all cases be at owner's risk until a receipt in the prescribed form has been granted, duly signed by an authorised Railway servant.
On goods available for delivery.
Consignments not removed.	From time of arrival till closing time of the day following that on which consignments are made available for delivery.	For all goods ...	Up to 1 anna ...	The goods shall be warehoused either under cover or in the open as space may be available.

2. A consignee must take delivery of goods forming part of a consignment whenever they are available for delivery, notwithstanding that the remaining goods are short or damaged or have not arrived at their destination or otherwise not available for delivery; and if the consignee does not take delivery of such goods forming part of a consignment as are available for delivery, they will be subject to wharfage charges if not removed within the time allowed for removal.

Notice of Arrival.

3. This administration does not undertake to send notice of arrival of goods to consignees; and the absence of such notice will not entitle consignees to claim exemption from wharfage or demurrage or storage charges if goods are not removed within the time allowed. Endeavours will, however, be made at receiving stations to advise consignees, when practicable, of the arrival of their goods. The cost of advices sent by post will be borne by the administration.

Treatment and Disposal of Unclaimed Goods.

4. (a) Subject to the exception mentioned in Rule (e) below, unclaimed goods are kept on hand at the station to which booked for a period of not less than one month, during which time the notice prescribed in section 56, sub-section (1), of the Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890), will be issued if the owner of the goods or person entitled thereto is known.

(b) If not taken delivery of within a period of not less than one month after receipt at the station to which invoiced or waybilled, unclaimed goods are dealt with as laid down in Rule (f) below.

(c) Unclaimed articles will be liable to the wharfage and demurrage charges hereinbefore referred to, as well as to all freight and special expenditure incurred by the railway on account of their custody and disposal.

(d) Where articles such as arms, ammunition, explosives, intoxicating liquors, opium and its preparations and hemp drugs, the sale of which by unlicensed persons is prohibited by law, are left unclaimed in the possession of the railway, they will be made over to the police or excise authorities for disposal under the laws affecting the articles. When not of a dangerous, perishable or offensive character, they will, however, be retained in the possession of the railway for the same period as that prescribed for other unclaimed articles.

This rule, in so far as it relates to explosives, is supplemental to, and not in modification of, the rules made under the Indian Explosives Act.

(e) Perishable articles unclaimed or not taken delivery of, will be disposed of by auction at owner's risk and expense by the Officer in charge of the Section on which they may be left, after the expiry of 24 hours or earlier if they are, or are likely to become, offensive.

(f) Public sales by auction will be held every quarter of the year of all unclaimed or lost property which has remained in the possession of the railway over six months. At least fifteen days' previous notice of each auction will be given by advertisement in a newspaper.

(g) Any surplus proceeds arising out of sale of lost property or unclaimed consignments after payment of all charges and expenses due to the railway, will be paid to the person or persons thereto entitled.

Lost Property.

5. (a) Lost property found in railway vehicles or on railway premises will, subject to the exception mentioned in rule 4 (e) above, be dealt with as laid down in rule 4 (f), above.

(b) Application for the recovery of the lost property should be made to the Officer in charge of the Section, marked on the outside cover "Lost Property".

(c) A fee of two annas for each article or package will be charged in addition to a storage charge of annas 4 per month or portion of a month during which it has remained in the possession of the Railway Administration as Lost Property.

II.—RULES FOR REGULATING THE USE OF ROLLING-STOCK.

6. Demurrage.

Circumstances.	Time allowed free.	Rate per ton or part of a ton of carrying capacity or per wagon per hour or part of an hour in excess of the free time.	REMARKS.
On foreign railway vehicles ordered and waiting to be loaded by senders or detained for consignment note or otherwise, owing to default of or at the request of the sender.	6 hours of day-light from the time at which the vehicles are placed in position.	Up to one anna per ton hour.
On foreign railway vehicles supplied in compliance with requisitions from senders and not used until notice of cancellation is received (subject to a minimum period for charge of one hour).	Nil	Up to one anna per ton hour.
On foreign railway loaded vehicles waiting to be discharged by owners.	6 hours of day-light from the time at which the vehicles are placed in position for unloading.	Up to one anna per ton hour.
On Port Commissioners' vehicles ordered and waiting to be loaded by the senders or detained for consignment notes or otherwise, owing to default of or at the request of the sender.	6 hours of day-light from the time at which the vehicles are placed or if placed for loading between noon and 14 hours and not loaded by 18 hours on the same day.	Re. 1 per wagon per hour of day-light and annas 8 per wagon per hour of darkness.
On Port Commissioners' vehicles placed in position before 15-30 hours in compliance with requisitions from senders and not used. N. B.—If such wagons are supplied after 15-30 hours the charge will only become due if the wagon is not loaded by the same sender on the following day.	Nil	Rs. 5 per wagon.
On Port Commissioners' loaded vehicles waiting to be discharged by owners.	6 hours of day-light from the time at which the vehicles are placed for unloading, or if placed for unloading between noon and 14 hours and not released by 18 hours on the same day.	Re. 1 per wagon per hour of day-light and annas 8 per wagon per hour of darkness.

NOTE.—Day-light hours are reckoned as from 6 to 18 o'clock.

Demurrage will be charged for every hour, day or night, in excess of the free time.

Fractions of an hour below 30 minutes shall be dropped. Fractions of 30 minutes and above shall be taken as a full hour.

Fractions of less than half a ton shall be dropped. Fractions of half a ton and over shall be treated as one ton.

III.—CALCULATION OF CHARGES.

7. In calculating wharfage and demurrage charges, fractions of one anna less than six pies shall be dropped and six pies and over shall be charged as one anna. Where the total amount of demurrage or wharfage due on any consignment is less than two annas, it shall be foregone.

IV.—GENERAL.

8. (a) In the event of goods requiring to be loaded or unloaded by owners becoming liable to both demurrage and wharfage charges, the Railway Administration may levy both demurrage and wharfage charges for such periods as the goods will be liable to such charges under these rules.

(b) The Railway Administration will at its option unload any vehicle waiting to be unloaded and charge the consignee for doing so and will also charge wharfage on the contents under rule 1.

(c) If and for so long as the state of the traffic or any sudden emergency makes it necessary and after advertisement in the local newspapers, the rate of demurrage or wharfage may be increased and the free time may be curtailed.

(d) Sundays, Christmas Day and Good Friday will be reckoned in charging demurrage on all wagons supplied at sender's request for loading, or made available for unloading on those days and stations will also be opened for unloading of wagons on those days so that merchants receiving wagons to their addresses which they are required to unload may do so.

This does not apply in the case of wharfage in which connection the above days will be treated as dies non as heretofore.

(e) Explosives or dangerous goods must be removed by the consignee from the receiving station during the 12 hours of day-light after arrival; if this condition is not strictly complied with, the Railway Administration may return the consignment to the consignor at his risk and expense.

(f) Should the wharfage or storage on actual weight exceed the demurrage charge at the wagon rate for the full time, the latter rate will be charged.

(g) The Railway Administration have the same lien on goods for demurrage and wharfage, and, if incurred, for unloading, as for freight; and these charges must be paid before the goods are removed.

Secretary, Railway Board.

Season and Crop Prospects for week ending Saturday, 25th January 1919.

Burma.—The week was practically rainless. Reaping of winter rice has been completed. Threshing and winnowing are still proceeding in Upper Burma. Sowing of tobacco, onions and other island crops is progressing. Harvesting of groundnuts and cotton is practically finished and that of juar, maize and beans has begun. Standing crops are generally good. Cattle are generally healthy. The price of unhusked rice in Rangoon is stationary at Rs. 122 per 100 baskets and is above normal. The market for white rice is quiet at Rs. 320 per hundred baskets for specials.

Assam.—Slight rain in all districts has benefited standing crops but more is wanted. Harvesting of winter rice is nearing completion. Harvesting of pulses and mustard, pressing of sugarcane, plucking of cotton, pruning of tea, transplantation of spring rice and ploughing of autumn rice and jute continue. Outturns and prospects of crops are generally fair. Cattle disease is reported in one district. Price of common rice rose slightly.

Bengal.—Light rain fell all over the province improving prospects of standing crops generally. Threshing of winter paddy and transplanting of summer rice are nearing completion. Preparation of fields for June and autumn paddy and harvesting of sugarcane, potatoes and early oilseeds are average. Price of common rice has fallen by about 0·13 per cent.

Bihar and Orissa.—Rain was fairly general over the province, the fall being generally light in Bihar and moderate in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. Harvesting of winter paddy continues. Pressing of sugarcane is in progress. The recent rainfall has improved the condition of the spring crops. Test works are going on in 27 places in Angul, the daily average number of persons attending such works being 1,221. Gratuitous relief was given to 1,573 persons in this district. The price of common rice has risen in four districts, fallen in six and remained stationary in the remaining districts as compared with that of the preceding week. Cattle disease is reported from eleven districts. The condition of the spring crops in the Feudatory States of Orissa is bad for want of rain.

United Provinces.—Rainfall was general throughout the province greatly benefiting the crops. Slight damage by frost is reported from Benares and Ballia and by hail in Cawnpore. Preparation of land for sowing of extra crops and sugarcane continues. Irrigation is still going on in places where necessary. Pressing of sugarcane continues. Standing crops are good. Prospects are more hopeful. Agricultural stock is doing well but cattle disease still exists in parts of certain districts. Fodder is still reported to be dear but recent rain will improve the situation. Forest hay is being imported and sold. Water and market supplies are sufficient. Prices are almost stationary. Numbers relieved on test works in Allahabad :—285.

Punjab.—Light showers fell in parts of all the reporting districts and were useful. More rain is urgently wanted everywhere. Condition of standing wheat and other spring crops is average to good on irrigated and below average on unirrigated areas. Pressing of sugarcane and harvesting of toria continue in some districts. The yield is generally below normal. Extra spring crops are being sown in a few districts. Cattle are generally healthy but are weak in some districts from overwork and general scarcity of fodder. Water is generally sufficient. Prices are generally stationary and above scarcity rates. Prices of wheat :—Ambala 5¼, Lahore 5½, Lyallpur 5¾, Ferozepore and Rawalpindi 6¼ seers per rupee.

North-West Frontier Province.—The week was rainless, but rain has been falling since the 28th and should prove of the greatest value. Prospects of standing crops are average on irrigated and below average on unirrigated areas in Peshawar and Bannu and very poor in Dera Ismail Khan owing to drought. Pressing of sugarcane continues. The outturn is average. Prices of wheat :—Peshawar 7 $\frac{5}{16}$ and Dera Ismail Khan 7 $\frac{3}{16}$ seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Rain fell during the week. Prices are still stationary. Fodder is insufficient.

Kashmir.—The week was generally wet and cold. Standing crops are in fair condition. Cattle are generally healthy. Prices are normal in Valley but high in Mozaffarabad.

Rajputana.—The weather was cold. Showers fell in a few places. Irrigation of spring crops continues. Cattle disease continues in places. Water is sufficient. Fodder is insufficient. Prices are stationary.

Central India.—Rainfall was general in Indore, Bhopal, Baghelkhand and Bundelkhand, partial in Malwa and Dhar and insufficient in Gwalior. Few showers fell in Manjree and Barwani. Autumn crops are being harvested in Indore, Bhopal and Malwa and the Southern States. Cotton is being picked in Gwalior, Bhopal and Malwa, and picking has been finished in Indore. Standing crops are bad in Gwalior, except on irrigated areas and in Malwa, and fair elsewhere. Probable outturn is bad in parts of Gwalior and Malwa, below average in Dhar and Jhabua, and fair elsewhere. Crops have been damaged by hail in three parganas of Gwalior, two districts of Indore and in parts of Narsingarh. Agricultural stock is bad in the northern districts of Gwalior and in Jaora, Rutlam and Sailana and fair to good elsewhere except for cattle disease. Scarcity of fodder prevails in Gwalior, Indore, Bundelkhand and parts of Malwa and Southern States. Fodder is fair in Bhopal and good in Baghelkhand. Prices are high but stationary. Opium is fair in Indore and is being weeded in Gwalior. Number of persons on famine relief in Bundelkhand :—149.

Central Provinces.—Moderate to heavy rain fell during the week in all districts except Nimar. The heaviest fall recorded at headquarters was 5 inches at Jubbulpore. It was accompanied by hail in several districts and crops in places were slightly damaged. Threshing and winnowing of autumn crops and picking of cotton have been practically completed. Condition of late sown spring crops has generally been improved by the rainfall during the two weeks but a break and clear sunshine are now needed to prevent rust. Reaping of pulses is proceeding but operations were hampered owing to rain. Supply of fodder is inadequate in parts of five districts. Cattle are healthy but mouth and foot disease prevails in a sporadic form in parts of Damoh, Wardha, Chanda, Raipur and Akola. Relief to distressed tracts is being provided in Damoh, Jubbulpore and Chanda. Gram in Narsinghpur and Akola and rice in Bhandara rose by 1 and 1¼ seers per rupee. Rice became cheaper by 1¾ seers in Akola. Prices elsewhere remained stationary or fluctuated slightly indicating an upward tendency.

The report on Sironcha for last week is as follows :—

General health is good in all affected districts of the province except the Ahiri Zamindari where influenza continues. Distress is slightly increasing in Jubbulpore where people from adjoining States are still coming in search of work. Private funds have been started in Jubbulpore and Saugor to provide cloth and grain to the poor. Scarcity has been declared in the Betul district. Early spring harvest work is decreasing distress in Sironcha. Prices of food grains are high but stationary. Numbers on works :—Seoni 855, Saugor 137, Jubbulpore 1,440, Damoh 443, Chanda 59, total 2,934. Numbers on gratuitous relief :—Seoni 185, Saugor 74, Jubbulpore 5,057, Damoh 2,279, Chanda 615, total 8,210.

Feudatory States.—Moderate to heavy rain fell in all States. Spring crops are generally in good condition.

Cotton picking continues in parts of Sind, Gujrat, Sholapur, Karnatak, Baroda and Rewa Kantha. Fodder supply is generally deficient but supplies continue to be moved to worst affected areas under Government arrangements. Agricultural stock is generally sufficient but cattle are deteriorating except in Konkan. Irrigation is generally deficient. Prices of food grains are high but generally steady. Relief works are in progress in Ahmednagar. Slight emigration is noticed in Satara. Public health is generally good. People find employment on Government relief and ordinary public works. Liberal suspensions of land revenue have been granted. Takavi is being freely advanced for fodder and agricultural improvements. Cheap grain shops continue in Nasik, West Khandesh, Poona and Kathiawar. One poor house has been opened in Poona and cattle camps in Ahmednagar and Nasik. Madras.—No rain fell during the week in Central and West Coast, but there were light showers elsewhere. Standing crops are fair generally but cholam, wheat and cotton have been affected by disease in parts of the Deccan. Harvests of paddy, sugarcane and dry crops are limited with outturn sometimes fair but poor generally. Sowings of paddy and dry crops are proceeding but are restricted in parts. Condition of cattle is good generally. Water is insufficient except in Kistna, Nellore, Chingleput, Coimbatore, West Coast and the Hills. Pasture is sufficient except in parts of seven districts. Fodder is insufficient in parts of eight districts. Prices are showing a tendency to rise. Prospects are bad in parts of Ganjam, Godavari, Bellary, Chittor and Salem.
